How to use this Teacher Edition

This book holds everything needed to teach the course: unit overviews, a plan for every lesson with what to say and do, the student lesson with Try It answers, and answer keys for every workbook page, weekly check and unit test.

- Daily routine (about 45–55 minutes): Warm-Up 5 · Read 15 · Mini-Lesson 10 · Guided Practice 7 · Independent 10 · Exit Ticket 3.
- Say: lines are a suggested script. Use your own words.
- Four lessons a week, then the Weekly Check (about 20 minutes), then corrections or a project.
- Each plan's Pacing row and each unit's pacing guide give the week and lesson order. Set the days to fit your own calendar.

UNIT 1 · TEACHER OVERVIEW

Word Power

Word parts, context clues, figurative language, and precise words, with King Arthur and the Round Table, Chapters 1–4.

Strong readers figure out new words on their own, and strong writers choose words carefully. In this unit you will use prefixes, suffixes, roots, and context clues to unlock word meanings, explore similes, metaphors, and idioms, and write your own legend-style story while you read the first chapters of King Arthur and the Round Table.

Big ideas

- Use prefixes, suffixes, and Greek and Latin roots to figure out word meanings.
- Use context clues: definitions, synonyms, antonyms, examples, and inference.
- Explain similes, metaphors, idioms, and proverbs.
- Choose precise words and write a narrative with dialogue and transitions.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.1, RL.4.3	Refer to details in a text; describe characters, settings, and events.
RL.4.4	Determine the meaning of words and phrases, including figurative language.
L.4.4a–c	Use context, affixes and roots, and reference materials to determine word meaning.
L.4.5a–c	Understand figurative language, word relationships, and nuances.
L.4.6	Acquire and use academic and domain-specific words.
W.4.3, W.4.5	Write narratives; plan, revise, and edit writing.

What students should already know

- Reading grade-level text independently.
- Writing complete sentences with capitals and end marks.

Materials for the unit

- King Arthur and the Round Table Reader (Chapters 1–4)
- Dictionary and thesaurus (print or online)
- Index cards for word study

TEACHING THIS UNIT AT HOME

At dinner, play “Word Detective”: one person says a word with a prefix or suffix, and others guess its meaning from the parts.

UNIT VOCABULARY

prefix	A word part at the beginning of a word.
suffix	A word part at the end of a word.
root	The main part of a word.
context clue	A hint in the text about a word's meaning.
simile	A comparison using like or as.
metaphor	A comparison saying one thing is another.
idiom	A phrase with a meaning different from its words.

LESSON 1.1 · TEACHER PLAN
Week 1 · Lesson 1 of 4
Unit 1: Word Power

Lesson 1.1: Meet King Arthur: Reading a Legend

Student goal	I can describe the characters and setting of a legend and use details from the text.
Objective	Students describe characters and setting in a legend using text details.
Standard	RL.4.1, RL.4.3 — Refer to details and examples in a text; describe a character, setting, or event.
Pacing	Unit 1, week 1, lesson 1 of 4
Time	About 50 minutes
Materials	King Arthur Reader (Chapter 1), workbook Lesson 1.1
Get ready	Read the student lesson and any assigned Reader chapter; answer the Your Turn questions.

Lesson Flow

Part	Min	What to do and say
Warm-Up	5	Ask: What makes someone a hero?
Read	15	Read Chapter 1 aloud together; students follow along. Pause after each page: Who is this? Where are we?
Mini-Lesson	10	Teach the words legend, character, setting. Say: "Strong readers prove what they think with details." Model the Merlin example.
Guided Practice	7	Your Turn 1–3 together.
Independent	10	Workbook lesson pages: Warm-Up through Think Deeper.
Exit Ticket	3	Student completes the Exit Ticket alone. Check it before the next lesson.

COMMON MISCONCEPTIONS

- Describing a character with an opinion only ("he is cool").

SUPPORT	EXTEND
• Give a sentence frame: ___ is ___ because in the text ___.	• Start a character chart for the whole book: name, traits, evidence.

STUDENT LESSON 1.1 · WITH ANSWERS

Lesson 1.1: Meet King Arthur: Reading a Legend

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 1.1 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Read in your Reader: King Arthur and the Round Table, Chapter 1: The Birth of Arthur (pages 1–2).
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 1.1, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 1.1 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Have you ever heard a story about a hero who did something no one else could do? What made that person a hero?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 1: The Birth of Arthur · pages 1–2

As you read, think about: Who are the important characters? Where and when does the story take place?

The stories of King Arthur are legends. People told them for hundreds of years, and each storyteller added new details. A legend usually has a hero, a time long ago, and events that are hard to believe, such as magic.

When you describe a character or setting, use details from the text, not just your opinion. Strong readers say what the text says and then explain what it shows.

MODEL · DESCRIBE A CHARACTER

What kind of person is Merlin?

1. Find a detail: Merlin is a wizard who takes care of the baby Arthur's future.
2. Ask: What does that show about him?
3. Write a sentence that names the trait and the detail.

Model answer: Merlin is wise and powerful. He uses his magic and knowledge to protect the baby Arthur and plan for his future.

★ KEY IDEA

Describe characters and settings with details from the text, then explain what the details show.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Name two characters in Chapter 1.

Answer: Possible: Arthur, Merlin, King Uther, Sir Ector (accept any characters from the chapter).

2. Describe the setting of the legend.

Answer: Britain long ago, in the time of knights, kings, and castles.

3. Which part of the chapter seems like a legend rather than real history? Why?

Answer: Answers vary: Merlin's magic or prophecy; magic doesn't happen in real history.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 1.1

#	Question	Answer
1	Name two characters in Chapter 1.	Possible: Arthur, Merlin, King Uther, Sir Ector (accept any characters from the chapter).
2	Describe the setting of the legend.	Britain long ago, in the time of knights, kings, and castles.
3	Which part of the chapter seems like a legend rather than real history? Why?	Answers vary: Merlin's magic or prophecy; magic doesn't happen in real history.
4	What is a setting?	When and where a story takes place
5	Name a story you know that has a hero.	Answers vary.
6	Who is the main character the legend is about? How do you know he will be important?	Arthur. The chapter is about his birth, and the book is named after him; Merlin plans for his future.
7	Describe Merlin. Use one detail from the chapter.	Merlin is a wise, powerful wizard. Detail: he takes the baby Arthur and plans his future. Accept any trait supported by a detail from the chapter.
8	Describe the setting. Include when and where.	Long ago in Britain, in a time of kings, knights, and castles.

#	Question	Answer
9	A legend is... A. a true report written by a reporter B. a story from long ago about a hero, with parts that are made up C. a poem that rhymes D. a set of directions	B. a story from long ago about a hero, with parts that are made up
10	Why do you think people kept telling stories about King Arthur for hundreds of years?	Answers vary: they are exciting, they show bravery and loyalty, people like heroes.
11	Write one sentence describing a character from Chapter 1. Include a detail from the text.	Answers vary; must name a trait and a supporting detail.

Week 1 · Lesson 2 of 4
Unit 1: Word Power

Lesson 1.2: Prefixes

Student goal	I can use prefixes to figure out the meaning of new words.
Objective	Students use prefixes to determine word meaning.
Standard	L.4.4b, RF.4.3a — Use common, grade-appropriate Greek and Latin affixes as clues to the meaning of a word.
Pacing	Unit 1, week 1, lesson 2 of 4
Time	About 50 minutes
Materials	Workbook Lesson 1.2; index cards (optional)
Get ready	Read the student lesson and any assigned Reader chapter; answer the Your Turn questions.

Lesson Flow

Part	Min	What to do and say
Warm-Up	5	Ask: What do unhappy, unlock, unfair share?
Read	15	Read “The Unlucky Kite” aloud; students raise a hand at each prefix word.
Mini-Lesson	10	Teach the prefix table. Model “misjudged.” Teach the Watch Out (uncle, real).
Guided Practice	7	Your Turn 1–3; prove each meaning in the sentence.
Independent	10	Workbook lesson pages: Warm-Up through Think Deeper.
Exit Ticket	3	Student completes the Exit Ticket alone. Check it before the next lesson.

- Treating any word starting with un/re as having a prefix.

SUPPORT

- Cover the prefix with a finger; is a real word left?

EXTEND

- Make prefix flashcards; play a matching game.

STUDENT LESSON 1.2 · WITH ANSWERS

Lesson 1.2: Prefixes

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 1.2 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 1.2, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 1.2 (Parts B–F).

GET READY

What do the words unhappy, unlock, and unfair have in common? What does un- do to each word?

A prefix is added to the beginning of a base word. If you know what the prefix means, you can often figure out the whole word.

Prefix	Meaning	Example
un-	not; opposite of	unhappy = not happy
re-	again; back	rebuild = build again
dis-	not; opposite of	disappear = opposite of appear
mis-	wrongly; badly	misjudge = judge wrongly
pre-	before	pretest = test before
non-	not	nonstop = without stopping

READING · REALISTIC FICTION

The Unlucky Kite

An original story

1 Mia was unhappy. Her new kite had disappeared over the tall fence behind the library. She had misjudged the wind, and the string had slipped right out of her fingers.

2 “We can rebuild it,” said her brother Theo. “I'll reread the directions, and you can retie the tail.”

3 Mia shook her head. “It's not the same. That kite was a gift from Grandma. I disliked the old one, but I loved this one.”

4 Just then, a woman leaned over the fence. She held up a bright red kite with a crooked tail. “Is this yours?” she asked with a smile. “It landed in my tomato plants. Next time, I suggest you pretest the wind before you let out all that string!”

5 Mia's frown disappeared. This was not such an unlucky day after all.

MODEL · USE THE PREFIX

In paragraph 1, what does misjudged mean?

1 Find the base word: judged.

2 Find the prefix: mis- means “wrongly.”

3 Put them together and check the sentence: she judged the wind wrongly, so the string slipped.

Model answer: Misjudged means “judged wrongly.”

! WATCH OUT

Not every word that starts with these letters has a prefix. In uncle and real, un and re are not prefixes, because -cle and -al are not base words.

★ KEY IDEA

Prefix meaning + base word meaning = new word meaning. Check that the meaning makes sense in the sentence.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. What does retie mean in paragraph 2?

Answer: tie again

2. What does disliked mean in paragraph 3?

Answer: did not like

3. What does pretest mean in paragraph 4?

Answer: test before

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 1.2

#	Question	Answer
1	What does retie mean in paragraph 2?	tie again
2	What does disliked mean in paragraph 3?	did not like
3	What does pretest mean in paragraph 4?	test before
4	Add un- to kind. Meaning?	unkind: not kind
5	Add re- to read. Meaning?	reread: read again
6	unsafe	not safe
7	replay	play again
8	disagree	not agree
9	misspell	spell wrongly
10	preview	view before
11	nonfiction	not fiction (true writing)
12	disconnect	undo a connection
13	refill	fill again
14	Find two words with prefixes in “The Unlucky Kite.” Write each word and its meaning.	Any two: unhappy (not happy), disappeared (opposite of appeared), misjudged (judged wrongly), rebuild (build again), reread (read again), retie (tie again), disliked (did not like), pretest (test before), unlucky (not lucky).
15	In paragraph 5, “Mia's frown disappeared” means her frown… A. got bigger B. went away C. came back D. was misjudged	B. went away
16	Is under a word with the prefix un-? Explain how you know.	No. If you remove “un,” “der” is not a base word.
17	Write a sentence using a word with the prefix re- or mis-. Underline the word.	Answers vary; word must use the prefix correctly.

Week 1 · Lesson 3 of 4
Unit 1: Word Power

Lesson 1.3: Suffixes

Student goal	I can use suffixes to figure out the meaning and part of speech of new words.
Objective	Students use suffixes to determine meaning.
Standard	L.4.4b — Use common affixes as clues to the meaning of a word.
Pacing	Unit 1, week 1, lesson 3 of 4
Time	About 50 minutes
Materials	Workbook Lesson 1.3
Get ready	Read the student lesson and any assigned Reader chapter; answer the Your Turn questions.

Lesson Flow

Part	Min	What to do and say
Warm-Up	5	Ask: How are help, helpful, helpless, helper different?
Read	15	Read the garden story; list suffix words on the board.
Mini-Lesson	10	Teach the suffix table. Model “pointless.” Spelling changes (happy → happiness).
Guided Practice	7	Your Turn 1–3.
Independent	10	Workbook lesson pages: Warm-Up through Think Deeper.
Exit Ticket	3	Student completes the Exit Ticket alone. Check it before the next lesson.

- Confusing -ful and -less.

SUPPORT

- Sort -ful and -less words into two columns.

EXTEND

- Find suffix words in the reader.

GET READY

How are help, helpful, helpless, and helper different?

A suffix is added to the end of a base word. Suffixes change the meaning and often change the part of speech (for example, from a verb to an adjective).

Suffix	Meaning	Example
-ful	full of	careful = full of care
-less	without	hopeless = without hope
-ly	in a certain way	slowly = in a slow way
-ness	state of being	darkness = state of being dark
-able	able to be	breakable = able to be broken
-er, -or	a person who	gardener = a person who gardens

READING · REALISTIC FICTION

Mr. Hollis and the Hopeless Garden

An original story

1 Everyone on Pine Street agreed that the empty lot was hopeless. It was full of broken bottles, rusty cans, and weeds taller than a fourth grader.

2 Then Mr. Hollis, a retired gardener, moved in next door. Every morning he worked slowly and carefully, pulling weeds and filling bags with trash. His neighbors thought his effort was pointless.

3 By June, though, the darkness of the old lot had given way to bright sunflowers and rows of beans. Children who had once been fearless about climbing the fence now walked gently between the rows. Mr. Hollis let anyone pick vegetables, as long as they were thankful and left the plants unharmed.

4 "Nothing is hopeless," Mr. Hollis told a reporter, "if you are willing to get your hands dirty."

MODEL · USE THE SUFFIX

What does pointless mean in paragraph 2?

1 Base word: point (a purpose).

2 Suffix: -less means "without."

3 Check: the neighbors thought his work had no purpose.

Model answer: Pointless means "without a point or purpose."

! WATCH OUT

Sometimes the base word changes spelling: happy + -ness = happiness (y changes to i).

★ KEY IDEA

Base word + suffix meaning = new word meaning. Suffixes like -ful and -less are opposites.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. What does carefully mean?

Answer: in a way full of care

2. What does fearless mean?

Answer: without fear

3. What is a gardener?

Answer: a person who gardens

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 1.3

#	Question	Answer
1	What does carefully mean?	in a way full of care
2	What does fearless mean?	without fear
3	What is a gardener?	a person who gardens
4	Add -ful to joy. Meaning?	joyful: full of joy
5	Add -less to joy. Meaning?	joyless: without joy
6	powerful	full of power
7	spotless	without spots
8	quietly	in a quiet way
9	kindness	state of being kind
10	washable	able to be washed
11	teacher	a person who teaches
12	sailor	a person who sails
13	thankful	full of thanks
14	In paragraph 1, hopeless means... A. full of hope B. without hope C. hoping again D. a person who hopes	B. without hope
15	Mr. Hollis said, “Nothing is hopeless.” What did he mean? Use a detail from the story.	Even something that looks impossible can get better with work. Detail: the trash-filled lot became a garden of sunflowers and beans.
16	Write a sentence that uses both careful and careless to show the difference.	Answers vary, e.g. A careful painter stays in the lines, but a careless one drips paint everywhere.
17	Add a suffix to loud to tell how something was done.	loudly
18	Add a suffix to fear to mean “without fear.”	fearless

The word telephone has two parts: tele and phone. What do you think each part means?

Root	Origin	Meaning	Examples
tele	Greek	far	telephone, telescope
phon	Greek	sound	telephone, phonics
graph	Greek	write, draw	autograph, paragraph
port	Latin	carry	transport, portable
aud	Latin	hear	audience, audio
vis / vid	Latin	see	visible, video

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Messages Across the Miles

An original informational text

1 Long ago, sending a message far away was slow. A rider might transport a letter on horseback for weeks. Some kingdoms used tall towers with fires on top, so that a guard could see a visible signal from one hill to the next.

2 In the 1800s, the telegraph changed everything. Electric signals traveled along wires, and an operator wrote down the message in dots and dashes. A few years later, the telephone let people hear each other's voices across many miles.

3 Today, a video call lets a grandmother in Texas see and hear her grandson in Japan at the same moment. The audience for a single online video can include millions of people. The roots of these words come from Greek and Latin, but the inventions are as modern as the phone in your pocket.

MODEL · PUT ROOTS TOGETHER

What does telegraph mean?

1 tele = far.

2 graph = write.

3 The telegraph sent written messages over long distances.

Model answer: a machine that sends writing far away

★ KEY IDEA

Roots carry the main meaning. Combine the root with prefixes and suffixes, then check the sentence.

#	Question	Answer
1	Portable means...	able to be carried
2	An audience is...	people who hear (or watch) something
3	Visible means...	able to be seen
4	Which root means “hear”?	aud
5	Which root means “carry”?	port
6	telescope	a tool to see far

#	Question	Answer
7	autograph	a person's own written name
8	transport	carry across / from place to place
9	audio	sound you hear
10	vision	the ability to see
11	export	carry goods out of a country
12	In paragraph 1, a visible signal is one that can be… A. heard B. carried C. seen D. written	C. seen
13	Explain how the telephone was different from the telegraph. Use the word roots to help.	Telegraph (far + write) sent written dots and dashes; telephone (far + sound) let people hear voices.
14	Invent a new word using two roots from the chart. Tell what it would mean.	Answers vary, e.g. “audiograph”: a machine that writes down what it hears.
15	Write 3–4 sentences about how you like to send messages to family or friends. Use at least two words with roots, prefixes, or suffixes from this week. Underline them.	Answers vary; look for correct use of at least two affix/root words. Check that each underlined word fits its meaning.

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 2: The Sword in the Stone · pages 3–5

As you read, think about: Watch for unfamiliar words. Which ones can you figure out from the sentences around them?

Authors often help you with hard words. A definition clue tells the meaning right in the sentence, often after a comma or the words is, means, or which is. A restatement clue says the same thing in easier words, often after or, a dash, or parentheses.

READING · HISTORICAL FICTION

The Blacksmith's Apprentice

An original story

1 When Tom turned ten, his father sent him to be an apprentice, a young worker who learns a trade by helping a master. His master was Old Rowan, the village blacksmith.

2 The smithy was always hot. In the middle of the room stood the forge, a fireplace where metal is heated until it glows. Tom's first job was to pump the bellows. Each time he squeezed the leather bag, it pushed a gust of air into the fire, and the coals blazed orange.

3 Rowan held glowing iron on the anvil and pounded it with his hammer. Sparks flew like tiny stars. Unlike the soft, bendable iron that came out of the fire, the finished horseshoe was rigid after it cooled in a bucket of water.

4 At the end of the first week, Tom's arms ached and his face was smudged with soot. But when a knight's horse trotted away on shoes Tom had helped make, he felt as proud as a king.

MODEL · DEFINITION CLUE

What is a forge? (paragraph 2)

1 Look right after the word.

2 The comma introduces "a fireplace where metal is heated until it glows."

Model answer: A forge is a fireplace where metal is heated until it glows.

★ KEY IDEA

Look for commas, dashes, parentheses, and the words is, means, and or. They often signal a definition or restatement.

"Gareth was boisterous, but his brother was quiet." What does boisterous probably mean?

A synonym clue uses a word with a similar meaning nearby. An antonym clue uses a word with the opposite meaning. Antonym clues are often signaled by but, unlike, however, on the other hand, or instead.

READING · HISTORICAL FICTION

Two Brothers, Two Knights

An original story

1 Sir Gareth and Sir Gaheris were brothers, but they were as different as night and day. Gareth was boisterous. He laughed loudly, sang at dinner, and told jokes that echoed through the great hall. Gaheris, on the other hand, was quiet and thoughtful.

2 Gareth was also impulsive. He jumped into adventures without thinking. Gaheris was cautious; he studied every map and asked every question before he rode out.

3 Yet the brothers agreed on one thing: a knight must be gallant, or brave and polite, to everyone, from the queen to the poorest farmer.

MODEL · ANTONYM CLUE

What does impulsive mean? (paragraph 2)

1 Gareth jumps into adventures without thinking.
2 Gaheris is the opposite: cautious, studying every map.
3 So impulsive means acting quickly without thinking.

Model answer: Impulsive means acting without thinking first.

★ KEY IDEA

Synonym clues show the same meaning nearby. Antonym clues show the opposite, often after but, unlike, or on the other hand.

"The cook chopped root vegetables such as onions, turnips, and carrots." What are root vegetables?

An example clue gives examples of the word, often after such as, for example, like, or including. Sometimes there is no single clue, and you must infer from the whole sentence or paragraph.

READING · HISTORICAL FICTION

The Castle Kitchen

An original informational story

1 Before sunrise, the castle kitchen was already busy. Cooks chopped onions, turnips, and other root vegetables. A boy turned a huge spit so the meat roasting over the fire would cook evenly.

2 The head cook was stern. She never smiled, and when a kitchen maid dropped a basket of eggs, the cook's voice was so sharp that everyone froze.

3 By noon the long tables in the hall were covered with platters of bread, stews, and pies. The feast lasted until the candles burned low, and the guests could not eat another bite.

MODEL · INFER FROM THE PARAGRAPH

GET READY

What does it mean if someone says, “My little brother is a tornado”?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 3: The Sword in the Lake · pages 6–8

As you read, think about: Notice descriptive language. How does the author help you picture the lake and the magic sword?

Writers use similes and metaphors to help readers picture things. To understand one, ask: What two things are compared? How are they alike?

READING · HISTORICAL FICTION

Storm over the Moor

An original story

1 The sky over the moor turned as dark as an iron pot. Wind howled like a hungry wolf, and the tall grass bent low to the ground.

2 Sir Bedivere pulled his cloak tighter. His horse was a statue, refusing to take another step. Rain fell in silver sheets, stinging his face like a hundred tiny needles.

3 At last, a light appeared in the distance. The little cottage was a lighthouse in a sea of storm. Bedivere's heart, cold as a stone a moment before, warmed with hope.

MODEL · EXPLAIN A SIMILE

"Wind howled like a hungry wolf."

1 Compared: wind and a hungry wolf.

2 Alike: both make a loud, wild, scary howling sound.

Model answer: The wind was loud, wild, and frightening.

MODEL · EXPLAIN A METAPHOR

"His horse was a statue."

1 Compared: the horse and a statue.

2 Alike: a statue does not move.

Model answer: The horse stood completely still and would not move.

★ KEY IDEA

Simile: like or as. Metaphor: says one thing is another. Explain what the two things have in common.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Simile or metaphor: "The cottage was a lighthouse in a sea of storm."

Answer: metaphor

2. What does that comparison mean?

Answer: The cottage's light guided him and gave him safety and hope in the storm.

3. Find one more simile in the passage.

Answer: dark as an iron pot; like a hundred tiny needles; cold as a stone

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 1.9

#	Question	Answer
1	Simile or metaphor: "The cottage was a lighthouse in a sea of storm."	metaphor
2	What does that comparison mean?	The cottage's light guided him and gave him safety and hope in the storm.
3	Find one more simile in the passage.	dark as an iron pot; like a hundred tiny needles; cold as a stone
4	Which word signals a simile?	like or as

#	Question	Answer
5	Does a metaphor use like?	No
6	“The classroom was a zoo.”	metaphor: the classroom was noisy and wild
7	“Her smile was as bright as the sun.”	simile: her smile was cheerful and happy
8	“The snow was a white blanket on the field.”	metaphor: the snow covered everything smoothly
9	“He ran like the wind.”	simile: he ran very fast
10	Explain the simile “rain … stinging his face like a hundred tiny needles.”	The rain hit hard and hurt, like many sharp needles poking his skin.
11	How do Bedivere's feelings change at the end? Which comparison shows it?	From cold and miserable to hopeful; “heart, cold as a stone… warmed with hope.”
12	Write one simile and one metaphor about a knight's sword.	Answers vary; simile uses like/as; metaphor says the sword is something.

GET READY

If your coach says, “Keep your eye on the ball,” does she mean to put your eye on it?

An idiom can't be understood word by word. It's raining cats and dogs means it is raining very hard. An adage or proverb is a wise saying, like Look before you leap.

READING · PERSONAL NARRATIVE

Grandpa's Sayings

An original personal narrative

1 My grandpa has a saying for everything. When I complained about cleaning my room, he said, “Many hands make light work,” and then he helped me fold my clothes.

2 When my sister was nervous about her piano recital, he told her to “break a leg.” She looked worried until Mom explained that it means “good luck.”

3 Last week, I wanted to quit soccer after we lost three games in a row. Grandpa put his hand on my shoulder. “Rome wasn't built in a day,” he said. “Keep practicing.”

4 I used to think his sayings were silly. Now, whenever I'm about to give up, I can almost hear him say, “Hang in there, kiddo.”

MODEL · EXPLAIN A PROVERB

“Rome wasn't built in a day.”

1 Literal: a huge city took a long time to build.

2 Situation: the narrator wants to quit after losing.

3 Lesson: great things take time and effort.

Model answer: Big goals take time; keep working.

★ KEY IDEA

Use context to figure out the real meaning. Ask: What is the speaker trying to tell someone?

✎ YOUR TURN

1. What does “break a leg” mean?

Answer: good luck

2. What does “Many hands make light work” mean?

Answer: When many people help, work is easier.

3. What does “Hang in there” mean?

Answer: Don't give up.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 1.10

#	Question	Answer
1	What does “break a leg” mean?	good luck
2	What does “Many hands make light work” mean?	When many people help, work is easier.
3	What does “Hang in there” mean?	Don't give up.
4	Is “break a leg” literal?	No
5	Name an idiom you know.	Answers vary.
6	“A piece of cake” means... A. a dessert B. something very easy C. a small amount	B. something very easy
7	“Look before you leap” means... A. think before you act B. jump high C. watch where you walk	A. think before you act
8	“Under the weather” means... A. outside in rain B. feeling sick C. below the clouds	B. feeling sick
9	“The early bird catches the worm” means... A. birds eat worms B. people who start early succeed C. wake up birds	B. people who start early succeed
10	Which saying from Grandpa would you use to encourage a friend who is struggling with math? Explain why.	“Rome wasn't built in a day” or “Hang in there”: learning takes time; don't give up.
11	Draw or describe the literal picture of “raining cats and dogs.” Then write what it really means.	Literal: animals falling from the sky. Real: raining very hard.

Is there a difference between saying a knight walked, marched, or tiptoed into the hall?

Synonyms are not all exactly the same. Cold, chilly, and freezing all describe low temperature, but freezing is much stronger. Choosing the right shade of meaning makes writing precise.

weaker			stronger
warm	hot	boiling	scorching
glad	happy	joyful	ecstatic
whisper	say	shout	roar
walk	hurry	run	sprint

MODEL · CHOOSE THE BEST WORD

The baby was asleep, so the knight ___ past the cradle. (walked, stomped, tiptoed)

1 Stomped is loud: wrong.

2 Walked is okay but plain.

3 Tiptoed shows moving quietly so the baby won't wake.

Model answer: tiptoed

★ KEY IDEA

Use a thesaurus to find synonyms, then pick the one whose exact meaning fits the sentence.

- [ ] Read Lesson 1.12 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 1.12, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 1.12 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

What does a question mean when it asks you to compare? To explain?

Some words appear in every subject: academic words such as compare (tell how things are alike and different), describe (tell details about), and explain (tell how or why). Other words belong to a topic: content words such as moat or keep for castles.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

How a Castle Kept People Safe

An original informational text

1 During the Middle Ages, lords built castles to protect their land and people. Many castles were surrounded by a moat, a deep ditch often filled with water.

2 To enter, visitors crossed a drawbridge, a bridge that could be raised to block the gate. The tops of the thick walls had battlements, which were walls with gaps that let archers shoot while staying protected.

3 The strongest part of the castle was the keep, a tall tower where the lord's family lived. If enemies broke through the outer walls, everyone could retreat to the keep.

MODEL · USE A CONTENT WORD

Explain how a drawbridge kept people safe.

1 Find the definition: a bridge that could be raised to block the gate.

2 Explain how: when raised, enemies could not cross the moat.

Model answer: When the drawbridge was raised, enemies couldn't cross the moat to reach the gate.

★ KEY IDEA

Learn what academic question words ask you to do. Use content words correctly when you write about a topic.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does compare ask you to do?

Answer: tell how things are alike and different

2. What was the keep?

Answer: the strongest tower, where the lord's family lived

3. What were battlements for?

Answer: protecting archers while they shot

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 1.12

#	Question	Answer
1	What does compare ask you to do?	tell how things are alike and different
2	What was the keep?	the strongest tower, where the lord's family lived
3	What were battlements for?	protecting archers while they shot
4	What does describe ask?	tell details about something
5	What does explain ask?	tell how or why
6	moat	a deep ditch, often filled with water, around a castle
7	drawbridge	a bridge that can be raised
8	battlements	wall tops with gaps for archers
9	keep	the strongest tower of a castle
10	Compare a moat and a drawbridge. How were they alike? How were they different?	Alike: both kept enemies out. Different: a moat was a ditch of water; a drawbridge was a bridge that could be raised.
11	Explain why everyone retreated to the keep if enemies broke through.	It was the strongest, safest part of the castle.

#	Question	Answer

GET READY

Which sentence do you picture better: “The knight went down the hill” or “The knight thundered down the rocky hill”?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 4: Sir Balin and the Hallows · pages 9–11

As you read, think about: Collect three strong verbs or vivid adjectives the author uses.

Plain words like went, said, good, and nice don't give readers much to picture. Strong verbs show exactly how an action happens. Vivid adjectives add sensory detail.

MODEL · REVISE A SENTENCE

The dog went across the yard.

1 Replace went with a verb that shows how: dashed.

2 Add an adjective: muddy.

Model answer: The dog dashed across the muddy yard.

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 1.14 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Think of a legend you know. What happens at the beginning, in the middle, and at the end?

A good narrative introduces a character and setting (beginning), builds a problem (middle), and solves it (end). Transition words guide the reader through time.

Beginning	Middle	End
at first, one day, long ago, once	then, next, after that, suddenly, meanwhile, later	finally, at last, in the end

MODEL · PLAN A STORY

A squire must find a lost horse before the tournament.

1 Beginning: Will, a squire, wakes up; Sir Owen's horse is gone.

2 Middle: He searches the stables and the forest; he finds hoofprints; suddenly he hears a neigh in the woods.

3 End: He finds the horse caught in brambles and frees it just in time.

Model answer: A three-part plan with characters, a problem, events in order, and a solution.

★ KEY IDEA

Plan beginning, middle, and end before you write. Use transitions to show the order of events.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Name two transition words for the middle of a story.

Answer: then, next, suddenly, after that

2. What belongs in the beginning?

Answer: characters and setting (and the start of the problem)

3. What belongs in the end?

Answer: how the problem is solved

GET READY

How can a writer show that a character is nervous without writing “he was nervous”?

Good narratives show instead of just tell. Use dialogue, actions, and sensory details. Instead of “Will was nervous,” write: Will's hands shook as he tightened the strap. “Please hold,” he whispered.

MODEL · SHOW, DON'T TELL

Tell: The forest was scary.

1 What would you see? Twisted branches, dark shadows.

2 Hear? An owl hooting, twigs cracking.

3 Feel? Cold air, heart pounding.

Model answer: Twisted branches clawed at the sky. Somewhere an owl hooted, and a twig cracked behind me. My heart pounded.

- Put a character's exact words inside quotation marks.
- Start a new paragraph each time a new person speaks.
- Put the comma or end mark inside the closing quotation mark: “Wait,” said Will.

★ KEY IDEA

Lesson 1.16: Revising, Editing, and Publishing

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 1.16 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 1.16, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 1.16 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

What's the difference between making your writing better and making it correct?

Revising makes writing better: clearer order, stronger words, more details. Editing makes writing correct: capitals, punctuation, spelling. Do both before you publish.

Revising checklist	Editing checklist
Does my story have a clear beginning, middle, and end?	Do sentences begin with capital letters?
Did I use transition words?	Do sentences end with . ? or !
Did I replace tired words with precise ones?	Is dialogue in quotation marks?
Did I show feelings with actions and dialogue?	Are words spelled correctly?

MODEL · REVISE AND EDIT

the knight went to the castle he was tired

1 Revise: “went” → “trudged”; add a detail.

2 Edit: capitalize The; split the run-on with a period.

Model answer: The knight trudged up the hill to the castle. He was so tired that his armor felt like a mountain on his shoulders.

★ KEY IDEA

Revise for ideas and words; edit for correctness. Then publish a clean copy.

UNIT 2 · TEACHER OVERVIEW

Reading Closely

Text evidence, inference, theme and main idea, and summary, with King Arthur and the Round Table, Chapters 5–8.

Good readers don't just read the words; they find evidence, read between the lines, discover the lessons stories teach, and retell what matters most. In this unit you will practice all four skills with the legends of the Round Table, fables, and informational articles.

Big ideas

- Quote and paraphrase text evidence; choose the strongest evidence.
- Make and support inferences about characters and facts.
- Determine themes in stories and main ideas in informational texts.
- Summarize stories and articles and explain how events connect.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.1, RI.4.1	Refer to details and examples when explaining a text and drawing inferences.
RL.4.2, RI.4.2	Determine theme or main idea; summarize.
RL.4.3	Describe characters, settings, and events in depth.
RL.4.9	Compare and contrast the treatment of similar themes.
W.4.9	Draw evidence from texts to support analysis.

What students should already know

- Unit 1 vocabulary skills.
- Writing complete sentences and paragraphs.

Materials for the unit

- King Arthur and the Round Table Reader (Chapters 5–8)
- Highlighters or colored pencils

GET READY

Your friend says the Round Table was special. How could you prove it using the book?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 5: The Marriage of Arthur and the Founding of the Round Table · pages 12–14

As you read, think about: Look for details that explain why the Round Table was important.

When you answer a question about a text, you need text evidence. You can quote (use the exact words in quotation marks) or paraphrase (put the idea in your own words). Either way, the evidence must come from the text.

Quote	Paraphrase
Copies the exact words	Uses your own words
Needs quotation marks	No quotation marks
Best for a word or line that matters	Best for a longer idea or event

MODEL · QUOTE AND PARAPHRASE

Why was the table round?

1. Find the part of Chapter 5 that explains the shape.
2. Paraphrase: A round table has no head, so no knight sat in a more important seat than another.
3. Add the source: “In Chapter 5…”

Model answer: In Chapter 5, the table is round so that no knight is more important than another; everyone sits as an equal.

★ KEY IDEA

Every answer needs proof. Quote exact words with quotation marks, or paraphrase in your own words, and tell where the evidence came from.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What is the difference between a quote and a paraphrase?

Answer: A quote copies exact words in quotation marks; a paraphrase uses your own words.

2. Paraphrase: “The knights vowed to protect the weak and to be true to the king.”

Answer: e.g. The knights promised to help people who couldn't protect themselves and to stay loyal to Arthur.

3. Name one event from Chapter 5.

Answer: Answers vary: Arthur marries Guinevere; the Round Table is founded; knights take their places.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 2.1

#	Question	Answer
1	What is the difference between a quote and a paraphrase?	A quote copies exact words in quotation marks; a paraphrase uses your own words.
2	Paraphrase: “The knights vowed to protect the weak and to be true to the king.”	e.g. The knights promised to help people who couldn't protect themselves and to stay loyal to Arthur.
3	Name one event from Chapter 5.	Answers vary: Arthur marries Guinevere; the Round Table is founded; knights take their places.
4	What is text evidence?	details from a text that support an answer
5	What punctuation does a quote need?	quotation marks
6	“The table could seat many knights.”	quote
7	The author says lots of knights could sit there.	paraphrase
8	Arthur wanted his knights to be equal.	paraphrase
9	“No seat was higher than another.”	quote

#	Question	Answer
10	Why was the Round Table important? Support your answer with a paraphrase from Chapter 5.	So all knights were equal; no seat was more important. Evidence from the chapter. Accept supported answers; evidence must come from Chapter 5.
11	Copy one sentence from Chapter 5 that tells something about Guinevere or the wedding. Use quotation marks.	Answers vary; must be an exact quote in quotation marks.
12	Paraphrase this sentence: “The knight rode swiftly through the dark forest, afraid of what waited ahead.”	e.g. The knight hurried through the forest because he was scared of what was coming.

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 2.2 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

If someone asked, "What were knights supposed to be like?", where would you look for the answer?

In informational text, the answer to a question is often spread across several paragraphs. Look for key words from the question, then read the sentences around them.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

The Code of Chivalry

An original informational text

1 In the Middle Ages, knights were expected to follow a set of rules called the code of chivalry. The code told knights how to behave in battle and in everyday life.

2 First, a knight was supposed to be loyal. He promised to serve his lord and protect the people who lived on his lord's land. Breaking that promise was one of the worst things a knight could do.

3 Second, a knight was expected to be brave. He had to face danger instead of running away, even when he was afraid.

4 Third, a knight was supposed to show courtesy, or good manners. He was to be polite to everyone and to protect people who could not protect themselves, such as children and the poor.

5 Not every knight followed the code. Some were greedy or cruel. Still, the code of chivalry gave people an idea of what a good knight should be, and that idea lives on in stories such as the legends of King Arthur.

MODEL · FIND THE EVIDENCE

What did the code say about people who could not protect themselves?

1 Key words: protect themselves.

2 Find them in paragraph 4.

3 Paraphrase the detail.

Model answer: Knights were supposed to protect people who could not protect themselves, such as children and the poor (paragraph 4).

★ KEY IDEA

Find key words from the question in the text. Use the paragraph number to show where your evidence is.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What three things did the code expect of knights?

Answer: to be loyal, brave, and courteous (paragraphs 2–4)

2. Did every knight follow the code? Give evidence.

Answer: No; paragraph 5 says some were greedy or cruel.

3. What does courtesy mean? Which paragraph?

Answer: good manners; paragraph 4

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 2.2

#	Question	Answer
1	What three things did the code expect of knights?	to be loyal, brave, and courteous (paragraphs 2–4)
2	Did every knight follow the code? Give evidence.	No; paragraph 5 says some were greedy or cruel.
3	What does courtesy mean? Which paragraph?	good manners; paragraph 4
4	Is the passage fiction or informational?	informational
5	What is a detail?	a fact or example that supports an idea
6	According to paragraph 2, what was one of the worst things a knight could do?	break his promise of loyalty to his lord
7	What did bravery mean for a knight? Quote the text.	“He had to face danger instead of running away, even when he was afraid.”

#	Question	Answer
8	Which sentence BEST supports the idea that the code still matters today? A. “Some were greedy or cruel.” B. “That idea lives on in stories such as the legends of King Arthur.” C. “First, a knight was supposed to be loyal.”	B. “That idea lives on in stories such as the legends of King Arthur.”
9	Which rule of chivalry do you think is most important today? Use evidence from the passage and your own reasons.	Answers vary; must cite the passage.
10	Which knight in Chapter 5 shows one part of the code? Give one detail.	Answers vary.

- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 2.3, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 2.3 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Two details are both true. How do you decide which one proves your point better?

Not all evidence is equally strong. The best evidence is relevant (it is about the question) and specific (it clearly proves the answer). Weak evidence is true but doesn't really prove the point.

MODEL · COMPARE EVIDENCE

Claim: The ants in a fable are hardworking. Which evidence is strongest?

1 A. The ants lived in a nest. (true, but not about working)

2 B. The ants marched back and forth all summer carrying seeds. (shows hard work)

3 C. The ants shared food. (shows kindness, not hard work)

Model answer: B is the strongest evidence.

★ KEY IDEA

Ask: Does this detail prove my answer, or is it just true? Choose the most specific, relevant detail.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. Claim: Merlin is wise. Strong or weak? “Merlin had a long beard.”

Answer: weak

2. Claim: Merlin is wise. Strong or weak? “Merlin knew what would happen before it happened.”

Answer: strong

3. Why is the first detail weak?

Answer: A long beard doesn't prove someone is wise.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 2.3

#	Question	Answer
1	Claim: Merlin is wise. Strong or weak? “Merlin had a long beard.”	weak
2	Claim: Merlin is wise. Strong or weak? “Merlin knew what would happen before it happened.”	strong
3	Why is the first detail weak?	A long beard doesn't prove someone is wise.
4	What does relevant mean?	connected to the question
5	Is every true detail strong evidence?	No
6	Claim: The knights in the code of chivalry were expected to be polite. Strongest evidence: A. “Knights were expected to follow a set of rules.” B. “He was to be polite to everyone.” C. “Breaking that promise was one of the worst things.”	B. “He was to be polite to everyone.”
7	Claim: Honeybees work together in winter. Strongest evidence: A. “Many insects die or sleep through the winter.” B. “The bees take turns moving from the cold outside of the cluster to the warm center.” C. “A strong hive may eat 50 pounds of honey.”	B. “The bees take turns moving from the cold outside of the cluster to the warm center.”
8	Claim: Mira grows more confident during the recital. Strongest evidence: A. “Her fingers trembled.” B. “By the last chord, Mira was smiling.” C. “Mira sat on the edge of her chair.”	B. “By the last chord, Mira was smiling.”
9	Claim: Arthur is a good king. Write the strongest piece of evidence you can find in Chapter 5, and explain why it is strong.	Answers vary; evidence should directly show good leadership.
10	Explain the difference between true evidence and strong evidence.	Strong evidence clearly proves the claim; true evidence may be unrelated.

Step	Sentence starters
Answer	I think... / The answer is... / In Chapter 5, ...
Cite	The text says, "..." / In paragraph 3, the author explains... / For example, ...
Explain	This shows that... / This proves... / This means...

MODEL · AN ACE PARAGRAPH

Question: Why did knights follow the code of chivalry?

1 Answer: Knights followed the code because it told them how a good knight should act.

2 Cite: The passage says the code "told knights how to behave in battle and in everyday life."

3 Explain: This shows that the code was a guide that helped knights know what was right.

Model answer: Knights followed the code because it told them how a good knight should act. The passage says the code "told knights how to behave in battle and in everyday life." This shows the code was a guide for doing what was right.

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 6: Sir Lancelot · pages 15–17

As you read, think about: What does the author show about Lancelot without saying it directly?

Authors don't tell readers everything. Readers make inferences: Text clues + What I know = Inference.

The Missing Bread

An original story

1 When Grandma came into the kitchen, the loaf of bread she had left cooling on the counter was gone. Only a few crumbs were left on the plate.

2 She looked around. The back door was open a crack. On the floor, a trail of tiny crumbs led toward it. Next to the door was a muddy paw print, about the size of a coin.

3 Grandma followed the trail outside. Under the porch, she heard a soft crunching sound. She knelt down and peeked. Two shiny eyes blinked back at her, and a fluffy striped tail swished.

4 Grandma laughed. “Well,” she said, “I guess I'll be baking another loaf.”

MODEL · MAKE AN INFERENCE

Who took the bread?

1 Clues: crumbs lead to the door; a small paw print; a fluffy striped tail under the porch.

2 What I know: raccoons have striped tails and steal food.

3 Inference: an animal, probably a raccoon, took the bread.

Model answer: A raccoon took the bread. The striped tail, the small paw print, and the crumb trail are the clues.

★ KEY IDEA

Text clues + what I know = inference. An inference must be supported by clues.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. How does Grandma feel at the end? What clue tells you?

Answer: amused, not angry; she laughs

2. What did the animal use to get in?

Answer: the back door that was open a crack

3. What will Grandma do next?

Answer: bake another loaf

READING · REALISTIC FICTION

Mira's Recital

An original story

1 Mira sat on the edge of her chair backstage, twisting the hem of her dress. Every few seconds she peeked through the curtain at the rows of people. Her stomach felt like it was full of butterflies.

2 When her name was called, she walked slowly to the piano. Her fingers trembled above the keys. She took a deep breath, closed her eyes for a moment, and began to play.

3 The first notes were shaky, but soon the music flowed. By the last chord, Mira was smiling. When the audience clapped, she bowed so low her braid almost touched the floor.

4 Backstage, her teacher hugged her. “I knew you could do it,” he said. Mira grinned. “Can I play two songs next year?”

MODEL · INFER A FEELING

How does Mira feel before she plays?

1 Actions: twists her dress, peeks at the audience.

2 Body: butterflies in her stomach, trembling fingers.

Model answer: Mira is nervous.

MODEL · INFER A CHANGE

How does Mira feel at the end? Why does she ask to play two songs?

1 She smiles and grins.

2 Wanting more shows she enjoyed it.

Model answer: Proud and confident; she wants to perform again.

★ KEY IDEA

Use what characters say, do, and think to infer feelings, traits, and motives.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does “closed her eyes for a moment” suggest?

Answer: She was calming herself down.

2. What trait does Mira show by playing anyway?

Answer: courage, bravery

3. How does her teacher feel? Evidence?

Answer: proud; he hugs her and says “I knew you could do it.”

GET READY

If a text says bees eat honey all winter, what can you infer about why they make so much honey in summer?

Informational texts give facts, but readers still make inferences by connecting facts that the author doesn't connect directly.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Honeybees in Winter

An original informational text

1 Many insects die or sleep through the winter, but honeybees stay busy. When the weather turns cold, the bees gather in a tight ball inside their hive called a winter cluster.

2 Bees in the center of the cluster shiver their wing muscles without flapping their wings. This shivering makes heat. The bees take turns moving from the cold outside of the cluster to the warm center.

3 All winter, the bees eat honey they stored during the summer. A strong hive may eat 50 pounds of honey before spring. Beekeepers who take too much honey in the fall may find an empty hive when the flowers bloom again.

MODEL · CONNECT FACTS

Why might beekeepers who take too much honey find an empty hive?

1 Fact: bees eat stored honey all winter.

2 Fact: a hive may eat 50 pounds.

3 Connect: without enough honey, the bees starve or leave.

Model answer: If the beekeeper takes too much honey, the bees won't have enough food for winter and may die.

★ KEY IDEA

Connect two or more facts to infer something the author does not say directly.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Why do bees take turns in the center?

Answer: so every bee gets to warm up and no bee freezes

2. Infer: Why do bees store honey in summer?

Answer: to have food in winter when there are no flowers

3. What can you infer about bees' shivering?

Answer: It uses energy, so they need honey for fuel.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 2.7

#	Question	Answer
1	Why do bees take turns in the center?	so every bee gets to warm up and no bee freezes
2	Infer: Why do bees store honey in summer?	to have food in winter when there are no flowers
3	What can you infer about bees' shivering?	It uses energy, so they need honey for fuel.
4	What does conclude mean?	decide using evidence
5	Do informational texts need inferences?	Yes
6	Paragraph 2 says the bees shiver to make heat. Why don't they flap their wings?	Flapping would move air and lose heat / they need to stay in the cluster. Accept reasonable, supported inferences.
7	What can you infer about what happens to a hive that is very small in winter?	It may not make enough heat and the bees could freeze.
8	Which conclusion is best supported by the passage? A. Bees hate winter. B. Teamwork helps honeybees survive the cold. C. Beekeepers should take all the honey.	B. Teamwork helps honeybees survive the cold.
9	Write one fact from the passage and one inference you can make from it.	Answers vary.

MODEL · INFERENCE PARAGRAPH

Question: What kind of worker is Tom in "The Blacksmith's Apprentice" (Lesson 1.5)?

1 Answer: Tom is hardworking and takes pride in his work.

2 Cite: After a week, "Tom's arms ached and his face was smudged with soot," but he "felt as proud as a king."

3 Explain: Aching arms and soot show how hard he worked, and feeling proud shows he cared about doing the job well.

Model answer: Tom is hardworking and takes pride in his work. After his first week, his arms ached and his face was covered in soot, yet he felt as proud as a king. His aching arms show how hard he worked, and his pride shows he cared about doing a good job.

★ KEY IDEA

An inference paragraph needs at least two clues and an explanation of how they connect.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How many clues should an inference paragraph include?

What lesson does a story like "The Tortoise and the Hare" teach?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 7: Sir Tristram · pages 18–19

As you read, think about: What lessons about love, loyalty, or choices could this chapter teach?

The theme is the big message about life. It is usually not stated. To find it, ask: What does the main character learn? What happens because of the character's choices? Write the theme as a full sentence.

READING · FABLE

The Grasshopper and the Ants

An original retelling of an Aesop fable

1 All summer long, a grasshopper played his fiddle in the warm grass. Nearby, a line of ants marched back and forth, carrying seeds to their nest.

2 "Why work so hard?" laughed the grasshopper. "Come and sing with me! There is plenty of food everywhere."

3 "We are storing food for the winter," said one ant, never putting down her seed. "You should do the same."

4 The grasshopper only played louder. Then winter came. Snow covered the grass, and the grasshopper could find nothing to eat. Shivering and hungry, he knocked at the ants' door.

5 The ants shared a little food with him, and the grasshopper said, “Next summer, I will play and work.”

MODEL · FIND THE THEME

What is the theme of “The Grasshopper and the Ants”?

1 The grasshopper plays instead of preparing.

2 In winter he is hungry; he learns to work.

3 Life lesson: preparing for the future matters.

Model answer: It is wise to prepare today for what you will need tomorrow.

! WATCH OUT

A topic is one or two words (hard work). A theme is a sentence about life (Hard work today helps you tomorrow).

★ KEY IDEA

Theme = what the character learns, written as a lesson for everyone.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Topic of the fable

Answer: hard work / planning ahead

2. What does the grasshopper learn?

Answer: He should work and prepare, not only play.

3. Write another way to say the theme.

Answer: Plan ahead. / Work now so you are ready later.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 2.9

#	Question	Answer
1	Topic of the fable	hard work / planning ahead
2	What does the grasshopper learn?	He should work and prepare, not only play.
3	Write another way to say the theme.	Plan ahead. / Work now so you are ready later.
4	Topic or theme? “friendship”	topic
5	Topic or theme? “True friends help each other.”	theme
6	How do the ants and the grasshopper act differently in summer? Use evidence.	Ants carry seeds to store food; the grasshopper plays his fiddle and laughs at them.
7	What does the grasshopper's last line show he learned?	He will balance fun and work, preparing for winter.
8	Which is the best theme statement? A. Grasshoppers play music. B. It is wise to prepare for the future. C. Winter is cold.	B. It is wise to prepare for the future.
9	What might be a theme of Chapter 7? Give one event that supports it.	Answers vary, e.g. loyalty can be tested; supported by an event.

The Two Gardens

An original story

1 Ruby and her neighbor Sam each planted a garden in the spring. Sam bought the biggest plants at the store and put them in the ground all at once. Ruby planted tiny seeds and watered them every morning.

2 In May, Sam's garden looked wonderful, and Ruby's looked like a patch of dirt. Sam teased her. “Your garden is invisible!”

3 But Sam forgot to water. By July, his plants were brown and drooping. Meanwhile, Ruby's seeds had grown into tall tomato vines and bright zinnias.

4 In August, Ruby brought Sam a basket of tomatoes. “Maybe next year,” he said with an embarrassed smile, “you can teach me how to garden.”

MODEL · TRACE THE THEME

How do Sam's choices reveal the theme?

1 Choice: Sam buys big plants and forgets to water.

2 Result: his plants die.

3 Change: he asks Ruby to teach him.

Model answer: Theme: Patience and steady effort pay off more than quick, easy shortcuts.

★ KEY IDEA

Choices → results → changes. The lesson the character learns points to the theme.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. What is the conflict?

Answer: Ruby's garden looks empty and Sam teases her; Sam neglects his garden.

2. How is it resolved?

Answer: Ruby's garden grows; she shares tomatoes; Sam asks to learn.

3. How does Sam change?

In informational text, the main idea is the most important point. Key details support it. The main idea might be stated in the first or last paragraph, or you may need to figure it out from the details.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Why Leaves Change Color

An original informational text

1 Every fall, trees in many parts of the country turn red, orange, and gold. The colors are not new. Many of them were inside the leaves all along.

2 During spring and summer, leaves are full of a green chemical called chlorophyll. Chlorophyll helps the tree use sunlight to make food. There is so much of it that it hides the other colors.

3 When days get shorter and cooler, the tree stops making chlorophyll. As the green fades, yellow and orange colors that were hidden begin to show. Some trees, like maples, also make new red colors in the fall.

4 Finally, the leaves dry up and fall. The tree rests through the winter and grows new green leaves in the spring.

MODEL · FIND THE MAIN IDEA

What is the main idea of "Why Leaves Change Color"?

1 Detail: chlorophyll hides other colors in summer.

2 Detail: in fall, chlorophyll fades and hidden colors show.

3 Detail: maples make new red colors.

4 These all explain why leaves change.

Model answer: Leaves change color in the fall because the green chlorophyll fades, letting other colors show.

★ KEY IDEA

GET READY

Can two very different stories teach the same lesson?

Stories from different times and places often share themes. When you compare, name the theme each story teaches, then show how each story's events teach it.

MODEL · COMPARE THEMES

"The Grasshopper and the Ants" and "The Two Gardens"

1 Fable: the grasshopper didn't prepare and went hungry.

2 Garden story: Sam didn't take care of his plants and they died.

3 Same theme: steady work and preparation pay off.

4 Different: one has animal characters and talking; the other is realistic.

Model answer: Both stories teach that steady effort and preparation pay off, but one uses talking animals and the other uses real-life neighbors.

	Grasshopper and the Ants	The Two Gardens
Characters	grasshopper, ants	Ruby, Sam
Genre	fable	realistic fiction
Lesson learned	work and prepare	patience and effort
Shared theme	Effort today pays off later.	Effort today pays off later.

★ KEY IDEA

Compare themes by naming the lesson in each story and the events that teach it.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How are the two stories alike?

Answer: same theme: effort and preparation pay off

2. How are they different?

Answer: fable with animals vs realistic story with people

3. Which character in each story learns the lesson?

Answer: the grasshopper; Sam

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 2.12

#	Question	Answer
1	How are the two stories alike?	same theme: effort and preparation pay off
2	How are they different?	fable with animals vs realistic story with people
3	Which character in each story learns the lesson?	the grasshopper; Sam
4	Compare =	tell how alike
5	Contrast =	tell how different
6	Compare the theme of Chapter 7 (Sir Tristram) with “The Two Gardens.” Are they alike or different? Explain with one event from each.	Answers vary; must name each theme and an event.
7	List two ways the grasshopper and Sam are alike and one way they are different.	Alike: both didn't prepare; both learned a lesson. Different: grasshopper is an animal in a fable; Sam is a person.
8	Write a theme that could fit both fables you read this week.	e.g. Small or patient efforts can make a big difference.

GET READY

If your friend missed a movie, how would you tell them about it in under a minute?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 8: The End of Merlin · pages 20–21

As you read, think about: What are the most important events? What happens to Merlin?

A summary tells only the most important events, in order, in your own words. It leaves out small details and opinions. One helpful frame is Somebody–Wanted–But–So–Then.

READING · HISTORICAL FICTION

The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter

An original story

1 Nell lived with her father in a lighthouse on a rocky island. Every night, her father climbed the tower to light the great lamp that warned ships away from the rocks.

2 One stormy night, her father slipped on the wet stairs and hurt his ankle. He could not climb. Through the window, Nell saw the lights of a fishing boat heading straight for the rocks.

3 Nell grabbed the lantern and climbed the hundred winding stairs. The wind shook the tower, and rain lashed the glass. With trembling hands, she lit the great lamp. Its beam swept across the dark water.

4 The fishing boat turned just in time. The next morning, the fishermen rowed to the island to thank the brave girl who had saved their lives.

MODEL · SUMMARIZE WITH SWBST

"The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter"

1 Somebody: Nell

2 Wanted: to keep ships safe when her father couldn't light the lamp

3 But: there was a storm and he hurt his ankle

4 So: she climbed the tower and lit the lamp herself

5 Then: the boat turned in time and the fishermen thanked her

Model answer: When her father hurt his ankle during a storm, Nell climbed the lighthouse tower and lit the lamp herself. The fishing boat turned just in time, and the fishermen thanked her for saving their lives.

★ KEY IDEA

A summary is short, in order, in your own words, and includes only the most important events.

GET READY

How is summarizing an article different from summarizing a story?

An informational summary starts with the main idea, then gives the most important key details, in your own words. There are no characters or plot, so SWBST doesn't fit.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

The Printing Press

An original informational text

1 Before the 1450s, books in Europe were copied by hand. A single book could take a monk months to finish, so books were rare and very expensive.

2 Around 1450, a German metalworker named Johannes Gutenberg built a printing press with metal letters that could be moved and reused. Workers arranged the letters, inked them, and pressed paper on top. They could print hundreds of pages a day.

3 Books became cheaper, and more people learned to read. Ideas about science, religion, and government spread quickly from city to city.

4 Today, historians call the printing press one of the most important inventions in history.

MODEL · SUMMARIZE

"The Printing Press"

1 Main idea: Gutenberg's printing press changed the world by making books cheaper and more common.

2 Key details: before, books were copied by hand; the press used movable metal letters; more people read and ideas spread.

Model answer: Gutenberg's printing press, built around 1450, changed the world. Before it, books were copied by hand and were rare. The press used movable metal letters to print hundreds of pages a day, so books became cheaper, more people learned to read, and ideas spread quickly.

★ KEY IDEA

Informational summary = main idea + two or three key details, in your own words.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Main idea of the passage

Answer: The printing press made books cheaper and helped ideas spread.

2. One key detail

Answer: Books were copied by hand before; the press printed hundreds of pages a day; more people learned to read.

3. Should a summary include the exact year?

Answer: It can, if it's important; keep it short.

In a chain of dominoes, how does the first one make the last one fall?

Events in a plot are connected like dominoes: one cause leads to an effect, which can cause another effect. Signal words: because, so, as a result, since, therefore.

MODEL · TRACE A CHAIN

"The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter"

1 Cause: Father hurts his ankle → Effect: he can't climb to light the lamp.

2 Cause: The lamp isn't lit → Effect: the boat heads for the rocks.

3 Cause: Nell lights the lamp → Effect: the boat turns in time.

Model answer: Each event causes the next: the injury leads Nell to climb the tower, which saves the boat.

★ KEY IDEA

Explain how events connect: this happened because of that. Use signal words.

✎ YOUR TURN

GET READY

What makes a summary paragraph easy to follow?

A summary paragraph begins with a topic sentence naming the text and its main idea or theme, gives the important events or details in order with transitions, and ends with a concluding sentence.

MODEL · SUMMARY PARAGRAPH

Summarize Chapters 5–8 of King Arthur.

1 Topic sentence: In Chapters 5–8, Arthur's kingdom grows strong, but trouble begins.

2 Middle: the Round Table is founded; great knights such as Lancelot and Tristram arrive; Merlin's story ends.

3 Concluding sentence: tie it together.

Model answer: A paragraph with a topic sentence, three to four key events in order with transitions, and a conclusion.

★ KEY IDEA

Topic sentence → events or details in order → concluding sentence.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. Where does the topic sentence go?

Reading Longer Texts

Stamina, annotation, point of view, tracking evidence, inference, and organized written responses, with King Arthur Chapters 9–12.

Longer texts ask more of readers: staying focused, keeping track of characters and ideas, and pulling evidence together from many places. In this unit you will read a three-part adventure story, a history of cathedral building, and the beginning of the Grail quest, and you will write your first multi-paragraph responses.

Big ideas

- Read long texts in chunks and annotate them.
- Use fix-up strategies and identify point of view.
- Track characters and ideas across a text and synthesize evidence.
- Explain inferences with evidence and reasoning.
- Plan, draft, and revise an organized multi-paragraph response.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.1, RI.4.1	Refer to details and draw inferences.
RL.4.3, RI.4.3	Describe characters in depth; explain events and procedures.
RL.4.6	Compare first- and third-person points of view.
RI.4.8	Explain how an author uses reasons and evidence.
W.4.2, W.4.4, W.4.5, W.4.9	Write organized informative responses with evidence; revise.

What students should already know

GET READY

What helps you keep going when you read a long chapter?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 9: The Birth of Galahad · pages 22–23

As you read, think about: Stop after every few paragraphs and tell yourself the gist.

Long texts can feel overwhelming. Strong readers break them into chunks. After each chunk, they stop and state the gist in a few words before moving on.

READING · ADVENTURE STORY

The Secret of Hollow Hill · Part 1

An original story in three parts

1 Nobody in the village of Thornbury went near Hollow Hill. The grown-ups said the hill was dangerous, though none of them could say exactly why. Children whispered that a dragon slept beneath it, or a giant, or the ghost of a wicked king.

2 Eleven-year-old Pip didn't believe in dragons. She believed in maps. Her grandfather had been the village mapmaker, and when he died, he left Pip his drawings, his compass, and a small brass key with no lock to fit it.

3 One rainy afternoon, Pip spread Grandfather's oldest map across the kitchen table. In the corner, in faded ink, she noticed something she had never seen before: a tiny drawing of a door on the side of Hollow Hill. Beneath it, Grandfather had written three words: For Pip. Courage.

4 Pip's heart beat faster. She ran her finger over the words again and again. Grandfather had known she would find this. But why hadn't he told her?

5 That night, she could hardly sleep. Each time she closed her eyes, she saw the little door. By morning, she had made up her mind. She packed bread, a candle, the compass, and the brass key, and she slipped out of the house before anyone else was awake.

6 Fog lay over the fields like a gray blanket. As Pip walked, the village roosters began to crow behind her. Ahead, Hollow Hill rose dark and silent. Her legs felt heavy, and twice she almost turned back. Then she remembered the words on the map. Courage. She kept walking.

MODEL · CHUNK AND STATE THE GIST

Paragraphs 1–2

1 Read paragraphs 1–2.

2 Ask: What is this part mostly about?

3 Say it in a few words.

Model answer: People fear Hollow Hill; Pip loves maps and got her grandfather's things.

4	What is a chunk?	a small section of a text
5	What is the gist?	the general idea of a section
6	Write the gist of each chunk: paragraphs 1–2, 3–4, 5–6.	1–2: People fear the hill; Pip loves maps and got Grandfather's key. 3–4: She finds the door on the map with a note. 5–6: She packs and goes to the hill, scared but brave.
7	Why does Pip almost turn back? What keeps her going?	She is scared (legs heavy); she remembers the word Courage.
8	Write the gist of the first half and the second half of Chapter 9.	Answers vary.
9	Which chunking strategy helped you most today? Why?	Answers vary.

Unit 3: Reading Longer Texts

Lesson 3.2: Annotating a Text

Student goal	I can annotate a text by marking important ideas, questions, and new words.
Objective	Students annotate texts.
Standard	RL.4.1, RI.4.1 — Refer to details and examples in a text.
Pacing	Unit 3, week 1, lesson 2 of 4
Time	About 50 minutes
Materials	Pencils or sticky notes, workbook Lesson 3.2
Get ready	Read the student lesson and any assigned Reader chapter; answer the Your Turn questions.

Lesson Flow

Part	Min	What to do and say
Warm-Up	5	What would you mark?
Read	15	Read Part 2 aloud with annotations modeled.
Mini-Lesson	10	Teach the symbol chart.
Guided Practice	7	Your Turn 1–3.
Independent	10	Workbook lesson pages: Warm-Up through Think Deeper.
Exit Ticket	3	Student completes the Exit Ticket alone. Check it before the next lesson.

- Underlining everything.

SUPPORT

- Limit to three underlines per paragraph.

EXTEND

- Annotate Chapter 9 with sticky notes.

Lesson 3.2: Annotating a Text

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 3.2 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 3.2, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 3.2 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

If you could write on the pages of a book, what would you mark?

Annotating means marking a text as you read. It keeps you active and helps you find evidence later. Use the same symbols every time.

Symbol	Means
underline	important idea or event
?	I have a question
!	surprising or exciting
circle	new or interesting word
*	evidence about a character

READING · ADVENTURE STORY

The Secret of Hollow Hill · Part 2

An original story in three parts

1 Thorny bushes covered the side of the hill. Pip pushed through them, scratching her arms, until she found a gray stone almost hidden in the weeds. Carved into the stone was a keyhole.

2 Her hands shook as she pulled out the brass key. It slid in perfectly. With a loud click, the stone swung inward, and cool air rushed out of a dark tunnel.

3 Pip lit her candle. The tunnel walls were smooth and dry, and someone had painted arrows on them in white paint. She followed the arrows deeper and deeper, counting her steps the way Grandfather had taught her. Two hundred steps. Three hundred.

4 At last the tunnel opened into a round room. Pip gasped. The walls were covered with maps, hundreds of them, showing rivers, forests, roads, and towns, some she knew and some she had never heard of. In the middle of the room stood a wooden desk, and on the desk lay a letter with her name on it.

5 Dear Pip, the letter began. For fifty years, I have mapped every corner of this valley. I kept this room secret because I was afraid people would laugh at an old man who spent his life drawing. But you never laughed. You asked questions. Now this room is yours. Please don't let my work stay hidden in the dark.

6 Pip read the letter three times. Then she sat down at Grandfather's desk and cried, but they were not entirely sad tears.

MODEL · ANNOTATE A PARAGRAPH

Paragraph 4

1 Underline: the room is covered with hundreds of maps.

2 ! Pip gasped.

3 ? Who wrote the letter?

Model answer: Marks show the key event, a surprise, and a question to answer later.

★ KEY IDEA

Annotate to stay focused and to find evidence quickly later. In a library book, use sticky notes instead of writing.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. What symbol shows a question?

Answer: ?

2. Which detail in paragraph 3 would you mark with *?

Answer: She counts her steps the way Grandfather taught her (shows she's careful).

3. Which word might you circle?

Answer: Answers vary.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 3.2

#	Question	Answer
1	What symbol shows a question?	?
2	Which detail in paragraph 3 would you mark with *?	She counts her steps the way Grandfather taught her (shows she's careful).
3	Which word might you circle?	Answers vary.
4	What does annotate mean?	mark and make notes on a text
5	What symbol marks a new word?	circle
6	Annotate Part 2 using the symbols. Then list one thing you underlined, one question, and one surprise.	Answers vary.
7	Why did Grandfather keep the room secret? Quote the letter.	“I was afraid people would laugh at an old man who spent his life drawing.”
8	Why does Pip cry “not entirely sad tears”?	She misses Grandfather, but she is also happy and moved that he left the room to her.
9	How did annotating help you answer the questions?	Answers vary: found evidence faster.

- Visualize what is happening.
- Ask a question and look for the answer.
- Use context clues for a hard word.
- Retell what you just read in your own words.

READING · ADVENTURE STORY

The Secret of Hollow Hill · Part 3

An original story in three parts

1 When Pip returned to Thornbury, the whole village was searching for her. Her mother hugged her so hard she could barely breathe. Then, of course, came the scolding.

2 “Hollow Hill?” the mayor sputtered. “That hill is dangerous!”

3 “It isn't,” Pip said quietly. “There's nothing dangerous inside. Only maps.” And she told them everything.

4 At first, people didn't believe her. So the next day, Pip led a group of villagers through the thorny bushes and into the tunnel. When they saw the round room, no one said a word. Old Mrs. Barrow touched a map of her family's farm, drawn more carefully than any she had ever seen, and her eyes filled with tears.

5 That spring, the villagers carried Grandfather's maps down from Hollow Hill and hung them in the town hall. Travelers came from far away to see them. The mayor named the room the Mapmaker's Library and asked Pip to be its keeper.

6 Children in Thornbury still whisper about Hollow Hill. But now, instead of dragons, they talk about a girl who was brave enough to follow a map, and a grandfather who was brave enough, in the end, to share his work.

MODEL · FIX CONFUSION

Paragraph 6: “a grandfather who was brave enough, in the end, to share his work.” How was sharing brave?

1 Reread Part 2: Grandfather hid his maps because he feared people would laugh.

2 Connect: sharing meant facing that fear.

Model answer: Sharing was brave because he had been afraid of being laughed at.

★ KEY IDEA

Notice confusion, then choose a fix-up strategy instead of skipping ahead.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. Which strategy would you use for a hard word?

Answer: context clues

2. Which strategy helps with a confusing event?

Answer: reread, visualize, or retell

3. Why does Mrs. Barrow cry?

Answer: She sees a beautiful map of her family's farm; she is touched.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 3.3

#	Question	Answer
1	Which strategy would you use for a hard word?	context clues
2	Which strategy helps with a confusing event?	reread, visualize, or retell
3	Why does Mrs. Barrow cry?	She sees a beautiful map of her family's farm; she is touched.
4	What does monitor mean?	keep track of understanding
5	Name one fix-up strategy.	reread, read ahead, visualize, ask, context, retell
6	Why didn't people believe Pip at first? How did she prove it?	It sounded impossible; she led a group into the tunnel to see.
7	How did the village change by the end?	They hung the maps in the town hall; travelers came; Pip became the keeper; children talk about Pip instead of dragons.
8	Write about one place in Part 3 that confused you and the strategy you used.	Answers vary.
9	Retell the whole story of Hollow Hill in three sentences.	Pip finds a door on Grandfather's map and uses his key to open a tunnel in Hollow Hill. Inside is a secret room of his maps and a letter giving it to her. She shows the village, and the maps become the Mapmaker's Library.

Lesson 3.4: Narrator and Point of View

Student goal	I can tell whether a story is told in first person or third person and explain how it affects what we learn.
Objective	Students identify and compare points of view.
Standard	RL.4.6 — Compare and contrast the point of view from which different stories are narrated, including first- and third-person.
Pacing	Unit 3, week 1, lesson 4 of 4
Time	About 50 minutes
Materials	Workbook Lesson 3.4
Get ready	Read the student lesson and any assigned Reader chapter; answer the Your Turn questions.

- [ ] Read Lesson 3.4 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 3.4, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 3.4 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Would a story sound different if the main character told it herself?

A first-person narrator is a character in the story (I, me, my). We only learn what that character knows and feels. A third-person narrator is outside the story (he, she, they) and may tell what several characters think.

READING · FIRST-PERSON NARRATOR

The Storm (Version A)

An original example

I pressed my face to the window as thunder shook the house. My little brother crawled under the table, but I wasn't scared. Well, maybe a little.

READING · THIRD-PERSON NARRATOR

The Storm (Version B)

An original example

Marcus pressed his face to the window as thunder shook the house. His little brother crawled under the table. Marcus told himself he wasn't scared, but his heart was pounding.

MODEL · COMPARE NARRATORS

How are Version A and Version B different?

1 A uses I; the narrator admits he's “a little” scared.

2 B uses Marcus and his; the narrator tells us his heart was pounding.

Model answer: A is first person; we hear the boy's own voice. B is third person; the narrator describes Marcus from outside.

★ KEY IDEA

Look for pronouns: I/me/my = first person; he/she/they = third person. Ask what the narrator can and can't know.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. Point of view of “The Secret of Hollow Hill”

Answer: third person

2. Point of view of “Grandpa's Sayings” (Lesson 1.10)

Answer: first person

3. Point of view of the King Arthur Reader

Answer: third person

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 3.4

#	Question	Answer
1	Point of view of “The Secret of Hollow Hill”	third person
2	Point of view of “Grandpa's Sayings” (Lesson 1.10)	first person
3	Point of view of the King Arthur Reader	third person
4	Pronouns in first person	I, me, my, we
5	Pronouns in third person	he, she, they
6	“I grabbed my sword and ran.”	first
7	“Arthur grabbed his sword and ran.”	third
8	“We laughed until our sides hurt.”	first
9	“The children laughed until their sides hurt.”	third
10	Rewrite Hollow Hill Part 1, paragraph 4, in first person, as if Pip is telling it.	e.g. My heart beat faster. I ran my finger over the words again and again. Grandfather had known I would find this. But why hadn't he told me?
11	What can a first-person narrator NOT tell readers?	what other characters are thinking (only what the narrator knows)

#	Question	Answer
12	Why might an author choose first person for a scary story?	Readers feel the fear directly with the character.

GET READY

Think of a character who changes over a whole book. How did you notice the change?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 10: The Coming of Galahad to Court · pages 1–25

As you read, think about: Track Galahad: what he does, what others say about him.

In a long text, evidence about a character is spread out. Use a tracking chart to collect evidence from the beginning, middle, and end.

Part	Evidence about Pip	What it shows
Part 1	Her legs felt heavy; twice she almost turned back.	nervous but determined
Part 2	She followed the arrows and counted her steps.	careful, brave
Part 3	She led villagers into the tunnel and became the keeper.	confident leader

MODEL · EXPLAIN THE CHANGE

How does Pip change?

1 Beginning: unsure, almost turns back.

2 End: confident; leads the village; becomes keeper.

Model answer: Pip grows from a nervous girl into a confident leader.

★ KEY IDEA

Collect evidence from the beginning, middle, and end to explain how a character changes.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. How does the mayor change?

Answer: from calling the hill dangerous to naming the Mapmaker's Library and asking Pip to be keeper

2. How do the village children change?

Answer: They talk about Pip instead of dragons.

3. How does Grandfather change (from his letter)?

Answer: from hiding his work out of fear to sharing it through Pip

GET READY

How would you explain to a younger child how a sandwich is made, step by step?

Informational texts often explain a procedure (how something is done) or events (what happened and why). Follow the sequence with signal words like first, next, then, as, finally, and explain why each step matters.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

How a Medieval Cathedral Was Built

An original informational text

1 Cathedrals were the largest buildings in medieval Europe. Some took more than a hundred years to finish, which meant that the workers who began a cathedral often did not live to see it completed.

2 First, a master builder drew the plans. He decided how tall the walls would be, where the windows would go, and how the roof would be supported. There were no computers, so he used simple tools like string, compasses, and rulers.

3 Next, workers dug deep trenches for the foundation. The foundation had to be strong enough to hold up thousands of tons of stone, so it was sometimes dug as deep as the walls were tall.

4 Then the stonecutters went to work. In the quarry, they cut huge blocks of stone and shaped them with hammers and chisels. Each block was marked with the stonecutter's own symbol so he could be paid for his work.

5 As the walls rose, carpenters built wooden scaffolds, frames that workers stood on to reach high places. Large wheels called treadwheels, powered by men walking inside them like hamsters, lifted the heavy stones into place.

6 Finally, glassmakers created stained-glass windows. They colored glass with metals, cut it into pieces, and joined the pieces with strips of lead to make pictures. When sunlight shone through, the inside of the cathedral glowed with color.

7 Today, many medieval cathedrals are still standing. They remind us what people could build with patience, teamwork, and simple tools.

MODEL · EXPLAIN A STEP AND WHY

Why did the foundation have to be so deep?

1 Find the step: paragraph 3.

2 Reason: it had to hold up thousands of tons of stone.

Model answer: The foundation was very deep because it had to support the huge weight of the stone walls.

★ KEY IDEA

Explain each step in order and tell why it was needed.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What was the first step?

Answer: A master builder drew the plans.

2. Why did stonecutters mark their blocks?

Answer: so they could be paid for their work

3. What powered the treadwheels?

Answer: men walking inside them

Can one paragraph always answer a big question?

Big questions need evidence from more than one place. Synthesize by finding a detail in each part, then explaining what they show together.

MODEL · SYNTHESIZE

What qualities did cathedral builders need? (Lesson 3.6 passage)

1 Paragraph 2: master builder planned with simple tools → skill and planning.

2 Paragraph 4: stonecutters shaped huge blocks → strength and skill.

3 Paragraph 1 and 7: took over 100 years; patience and teamwork.

Model answer: Builders needed skill, strength, and above all patience and teamwork, because the work took generations.

★ KEY IDEA

For big questions: gather evidence from several paragraphs, then explain what it shows together.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answer: They hung them in the town hall; Mrs. Barrow cried; they named the library.

3. What does synthesize mean?

Answer: combine information from different places

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 3.7

#	Question	Answer
1	Evidence that Grandfather loved Pip (two parts of Hollow Hill)	He left her his key and maps (Part 1); he wrote her a letter giving her the room (Part 2).
2	Evidence that the village valued the maps (Part 3)	They hung them in the town hall; Mrs. Barrow cried; they named the library.

GET READY

How can you show a reader that your answer is backed up throughout the whole text?

Use ACE with two citations from different parts of the text, joined by transitions such as at the beginning, later, in addition, by the end.

MODEL · TWO-CITATION ACE

How does Pip show courage?

1 A: Pip shows courage again and again.

2 C1: At the beginning, she keeps walking even though she almost turns back.

3 C2: Later, she unlocks the door and follows the tunnel alone.

4 E: Each time she is afraid, she chooses to keep going.

Model answer: Pip shows courage again and again. At the beginning, her legs feel heavy and she almost turns back, but she keeps walking. Later, she unlocks the stone door and follows the dark tunnel alone. Each time she is afraid, she chooses to keep going, which is what courage means.

★ KEY IDEA

Use two pieces of evidence from different parts and connect them with transitions.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. Name two transitions for linking evidence.

Answer: at the beginning, later, in addition, by the end

2. Why use two pieces of evidence?

1	List the steps beavers follow to build their home, in order.	Cut down trees; build a dam; the water forms a pond; build a lodge in the pond.
2	Why does the lodge have underwater entrances?	so predators like wolves cannot easily get in
3	Use evidence from two paragraphs to explain why beavers are called “engineers.”	They cut trees and build dams that make ponds (par. 1–2) and build lodges with underwater entrances (par. 3).
4	How do beavers help other animals?	Their ponds make wetlands where fish, frogs, ducks, and insects live.

- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 3.9, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 3.9 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Have you ever predicted the ending of a movie and been wrong? What made you change your mind?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 11: How the Quest Began · pages 1–27

As you read, think about: What is the quest? Predict what will happen to the knights.

A prediction is an inference about what will happen. Good readers base predictions on clues and revise them when new information appears.

MODEL · REVISE A PREDICTION

Hollow Hill

1 Part 1 clue: children whisper of dragons; Pip has a key. Prediction: she'll find something dangerous or a treasure.

2 Part 2 new information: the room holds maps and a letter.

3 Revise: the treasure is Grandfather's work, not gold.

Model answer: Predictions change as new clues appear; that's what good readers do.

★ KEY IDEA

Predict from clues; confirm or revise as you read.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What clue in Part 1 suggested Pip would find a door?

Answer: the drawing of a door on the map; the brass key

2. Was the prediction "a dragon lives there" supported?

Answer: No; there were no clues, only rumors.

3. Predict one thing that happens next in Chapter 12.

Answer: Answers vary.

- [ ] Read Lesson 3.10 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 3.10, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 3.10 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

How is finding the theme of a long story different from finding it in a fable?

In fables, the lesson is often stated. In longer stories, the theme builds slowly. Look at what changes, what the characters learn, and what the title and ending suggest.

MODEL · INFER A THEME

"The Secret of Hollow Hill"

1 What Pip learns: courage leads to discovery.

2 What Grandfather learns: sharing your work matters.

3 What the village learns: fear came from not knowing.

Model answer: Possible themes: Courage helps us discover the truth. / Fear of the unknown can be overcome by facing it. / Sharing your gifts is better than hiding them.

★ KEY IDEA

A long story can have more than one theme. Support your theme with evidence from several parts.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What theme does the mayor's change support?

Answer: Fear of the unknown can be overcome by learning the truth.

2. What does the final paragraph suggest about courage?

Answer: Both Pip and Grandfather needed courage.

3. Give one theme in your own words.

Answer: Answers vary.

#	Question	Answer
1	What theme does the mayor's change support?	Fear of the unknown can be overcome by learning the truth.
2	What does the final paragraph suggest about courage?	Both Pip and Grandfather needed courage.
3	Give one theme in your own words.	Answers vary.
4	Topic of Hollow Hill	courage / sharing
5	Can a story have more than one theme?	Yes
6	Write a theme for “The Secret of Hollow Hill.” Support it with evidence from two different parts.	e.g. Sharing your gifts brings people together: Grandfather hid his maps out of fear (Part 2); when Pip shared them, the village celebrated (Part 3).
7	What theme might the quest in Chapter 11 be building? Explain.	Answers vary, e.g. true goodness matters more than strength.
8	How does the title “The Secret of Hollow Hill” connect to the theme?	The secret was something good hidden by fear; uncovering it shows the theme.

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 3.11 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

If an author calls a building "breathtaking," what does the author think of it?

Informational authors show their ideas through the details they include and the words they choose. Look for opinion words and the conclusion.

MODEL · INFER THE AUTHOR'S POINT

"How a Medieval Cathedral Was Built"

1 Word choice: "glowed with color."

2 Conclusion: they remind us what people could build "with patience, teamwork, and simple tools."

Model answer: The author admires the cathedral builders and thinks their work is impressive.

★ KEY IDEA

Word choice and the conclusion reveal what the author thinks.

✎ YOUR TURN

1. Which words show the author admires stained glass?

Answer: "glowed with color"

2. What does the author want us to remember?

Answer: that people built amazing things with patience, teamwork, and simple tools

3. Does the author say "I think"?

Answer: No; the ideas are shown through details.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 3.11

#	Question	Answer
1	Which words show the author admires stained glass?	“glowed with color”
2	What does the author want us to remember?	that people built amazing things with patience, teamwork, and simple tools
3	Does the author say “I think”?	No; the ideas are shown through details.
4	What is an author's point?	the idea the author wants readers to understand
5	Where do authors often state their main point?	the conclusion
6	Reread “Honeybees in Winter” (Lesson 2.7). What does the author want readers to understand about honeybees? Give evidence.	They survive through teamwork; “take turns,” and beekeepers should leave honey.
7	What does the author of “The Printing Press” (Lesson 2.14) think about the invention? Quote a word or phrase.	It was hugely important: “one of the most important inventions in history.”

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 3.12 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

What's the difference between saying “Pip is brave” and proving it?

Reasoning is the bridge between evidence and your inference. Strong reasoning uses because, this shows, or this means, and explains how the evidence proves the idea.

MODEL · WEAK VS STRONG REASONING

Inference: Grandfather trusted Pip.

1 Evidence: He wrote “For Pip. Courage.” on the map.

2 Weak: This shows he trusted her.

3 Strong: Leaving a secret message only she would find shows he believed she would understand it and be brave enough to follow it.

Model answer: Strong reasoning explains how the evidence proves the inference.

★ KEY IDEA

Evidence + reasoning = proof. Explain HOW, not just THAT.

✎ YOUR TURN

Unit 3 Test — Answer Key

Answers

#	Question	Answer
1	Write the gist of paragraph 1.	Chicago was mostly wooden and very dry in 1871.
2	Explain why the fire spread so quickly. Use evidence from two paragraphs.	Wooden buildings and dry summer (par. 1); strong winds and flying burning wood (par. 2–3).
3	What point of view is this text written in? A. first person B. third person	B. third person
4	What did people do to escape the heat?	Some waded into Lake Michigan.
5	How was the rebuilt city different? Why?	It used more brick, stone, and iron so it wouldn't burn as easily.
6	What can you infer about Chicago's firefighters in 1871? Give a clue.	They didn't have enough equipment to stop such a big fire; “only a few horse-drawn engines.”
7	What is the author's point in the last two paragraphs? Quote a phrase.	Chicago overcame disaster and became stronger: “rose from the ashes stronger than before.”
8	Which conclusion is BEST supported? A. The fire was caused by a cow. B. Chicago's people were determined to rebuild. C. Chicago never recovered.	B. Chicago's people were determined to rebuild.
9	Prompt: Explain how the Great Chicago Fire changed the city. Write an introduction, two body paragraphs with evidence, and a conclusion.	Rubric: introduction with answer (1); body 1 with evidence (1) and explanation (1); body 2 with evidence and explanation (1); conclusion (1); transitions and conventions (1).

Scoring

Score	What it means / next step
13–15 (85%+)	Mastered.
10–12	Proficient; review missed skills.
Below 10	Reteach organization or evidence and retest.

UNIT 4 · TEACHER OVERVIEW

The Writer's Craft

Words and phrases, structure, purpose and point of view, and comparing texts, with Treasure Island Chapters 1–4.

Every author makes choices: which words to use, how to organize ideas, whose eyes to tell the story through, and how to keep readers turning pages. In this unit you'll board the Hispaniola with Jim Hawkins and study the craft that makes Treasure Island one of the most famous adventure stories ever written.

Big ideas

- Interpret old-fashioned language, allusions to mythology, and sensory language.
- Compare poems, drama, and prose; identify informational text structures.
- Identify author's purpose; compare firsthand and secondhand accounts and character perspectives.
- Analyze suspense and compare texts, illustrations, fiction, and nonfiction.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.4, RI.4.4	Determine the meaning of words and phrases, including allusions and content words.
RL.4.5, RI.4.5	Explain structural differences; describe text structures.
RL.4.6, RI.4.6	Compare points of view; compare firsthand and secondhand accounts.
RL.4.7, RL.4.9, RI.4.8, RI.4.9	Connect text to visuals; compare texts; evaluate reasons and evidence.

What students should already know

- Unit 3: reading longer texts and point of view.

Materials for the unit

- Treasure Island Reader (Chapters 1–4)
- Colored pencils for organizers

Lesson 4.1: Reading Old-Fashioned Language

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 4.1 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Read in your Reader: Treasure Island, Chapter 1: The Old Seadog and the Black Spot (pages 2–9).
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 4.1, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 4.1 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Have you ever read something that sounded old-fashioned? What made it sound that way?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 1: The Old Seadog and the Black Spot · pages 2–9

As you read, think about: Who is the old seaman? Why is everyone afraid of him?

Treasure Island was written by Robert Louis Stevenson in 1883. Your Reader retells it in modern words, but the original uses long sentences and archaic words. Use context clues, word parts, and the whole sentence to figure them out.

READING · CLASSIC NOVEL EXCERPT

From Treasure Island, Chapter 1 (original 1883 text)

Robert Louis Stevenson, Treasure Island (1883). Public domain.

1 Squire Trelawney, Dr. Livesey, and the rest of these gentlemen having asked me to write down the whole particulars about Treasure Island, from the beginning to the end, keeping nothing back but the bearings of the island, and that only because there is still treasure not yet lifted, I take up my pen in the year of grace 17—, and go back to the time when my father kept the Admiral Benbow inn, and the brown old seaman, with the sabre cut, first took up his lodging under our roof.

2 I remember him as if it were yesterday, as he came plodding to the inn door, his sea-chest following behind him in a hand-barrow—a tall, strong, heavy, nut-brown man, his tarry pigtail falling over the shoulder of his soiled blue coat, his hands ragged and scarred, with black, broken nails, and the sabre cut across one cheek, a dirty, livid white.

MODEL · UNDERSTAND AN OLD PHRASE

"keeping nothing back but the bearings of the island"

1 Keeping nothing back = telling everything.

2 Bearings = directions or location (a sailing word).

3 Why keep them back? "there is still treasure not yet lifted."

Model answer: Jim will tell everything except the island's exact location, because treasure is still there.

★ KEY IDEA

Read old-fashioned sentences in chunks. Use context, word parts, and what you know about the story.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Who is telling the story?

Answer: Jim Hawkins (the narrator, "I"), the son of the innkeeper

2. What is a "sabre cut"?

Answer: a scar from a sword

3. What does "took up his lodging under our roof" mean?

Answer: came to live at the inn

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.1

#	Question	Answer
1	Who is telling the story?	Jim Hawkins (the narrator, "I"), the son of the innkeeper
2	What is a "sabre cut"?	a scar from a sword
3	What does "took up his lodging under our roof" mean?	came to live at the inn

#	Question	Answer
4	What is a classic?	a book read and admired for a long time
5	When was Treasure Island written?	1883
6	Paragraph 2: list four details that describe the seaman. What kind of person does he seem to be?	tall, strong, heavy; tarry pigtail; ragged, scarred hands; sabre cut; he seems rough and dangerous.
7	What does “plodding” mean? Which clue helps?	walking slowly and heavily; he is heavy and his chest follows in a hand-barrow
8	“The year of grace 17—” tells us the story happened… A. in the future B. in the 1700s C. last year	B. in the 1700s
9	What is the black spot, and why does it frighten the captain?	A pirate's warning or summons; it means the pirates are coming for him.
10	Rewrite paragraph 2 in one modern sentence.	e.g. I clearly remember the big, scarred old sailor dragging his sea chest to the inn door.

STUDENT LESSON 4.2 · WITH ANSWERS

Lesson 4.2: Words from Mythology

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 4.2 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 4.2, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 4.2 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

If someone says a job is "Herculean," what do you think it means?

Many English expressions come from Greek myths. Knowing the myth helps you understand the word.

Word or phrase	The myth	Meaning today
Herculean	Hercules completed twelve nearly impossible labors.	needing huge strength or effort
Pandora's box	Pandora opened a box that released troubles into the world.	something that causes many problems once started
Achilles' heel	Achilles could be hurt only on his heel.	a weak spot
Midas touch	Everything King Midas touched turned to gold.	the ability to make money or succeed easily
echo	Echo was a nymph who could only repeat others' words.	a repeated sound

READING · REALISTIC FICTION

A Herculean Task

An original story

1 Cleaning the garage was a Herculean task. Boxes were stacked to the ceiling, and Dad said nobody had swept the floor since before I was born.

2 My sister Zoe opened a dusty trunk in the corner. "Don't!" I warned. "That could be a Pandora's box." Sure enough, a cloud of moths flew out, and Zoe screamed.

3 Dad is great at fixing things, but organizing is his Achilles' heel. He kept every broken lamp and bent bicycle wheel, "just in case."

4 By evening, the garage was spotless. Mom walked in and said we must have the Midas touch, because we had found forty dollars in old coins in a coffee can.

MODEL · EXPLAIN AN ALLUSION

"Organizing is his Achilles' heel."

1 Myth: Achilles' only weak spot was his heel.

2 Context: Dad is great at fixing but keeps everything.

Model answer: Organizing is Dad's weakness.

★ KEY IDEA

Learn the myth behind the phrase, then apply its meaning to the sentence.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Why was cleaning the garage Herculean?

Answer: It was a huge, hard job.

2. Why call the trunk a Pandora's box?

Answer: Opening it might let out trouble (moths).

3. Why did they have the Midas touch?

Answer: They found money while cleaning.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.2

#	Question	Answer
1	Why was cleaning the garage Herculean?	It was a huge, hard job.
2	Why call the trunk a Pandora's box?	Opening it might let out trouble (moths).
3	Why did they have the Midas touch?	They found money while cleaning.
4	What is an allusion?	a reference to a well-known story
5	Who was Hercules?	a strong hero who did twelve labors
6	Spelling is my Achilles' heel. This means spelling is... A. my best subject B. my weak spot C. very easy	B. my weak spot

#	Question	Answer
7	Starting that argument opened a Pandora's box. This means... A. it caused many problems B. it was a gift C. it was fun	A. it caused many problems
8	Moving the piano was a Herculean task. This means... A. it was easy B. it needed great strength C. it was musical	B. it needed great strength
9	Grandpa has the Midas touch with his business. This means... A. his business fails B. he is good at making money C. he likes gold jewelry	B. he is good at making money
10	Write two sentences of your own using two of the allusions.	Answers vary; used correctly.
11	Which allusion describes the captain in Chapter 1? Explain.	e.g. Achilles' heel: his weakness is his fear of the pirates / the black spot.

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 4.3 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Close your eyes. What sounds, smells, and sights would you notice in an old inn by the sea at night?

Writers use sensory language to make readers feel something. The feeling is the mood. Find the sensory words, then ask: How do they make me feel?

READING · POEM

The Sea Chest

An original poem

The old sea chest sat by the door,
Its lid all cracked and worn;
It smelled of salt and tar and rope
And stormy seas at morn.

What secrets did the sailor keep
Beneath that rusty lock?
A compass, coins, a faded map,
A single, tangled sock?

I'll never know, for on the night
The sailor sailed away,
He took his chest and all his tales
To some far-distant bay.

MODEL · FIND THE MOOD

"It smelled of salt and tar and rope / And stormy seas at morn."

1 Smell words: salt, tar, rope.

2 Sight/feeling: stormy seas.

3 They make the chest seem old, adventurous, and a bit mysterious.

Model answer: The mood is mysterious and adventurous.

★ KEY IDEA

Sensory words → pictures and feelings → mood. Name the mood with an exact word.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Which sense does “cracked and worn” appeal to?

Answer: sight (and touch)

2. What mood does the second stanza create?

Answer: curious, mysterious

3. How does the last stanza feel?

Answer: a little sad / wistful; the mystery is never solved

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.3

#	Question	Answer
1	Which sense does “cracked and worn” appeal to?	sight (and touch)
2	What mood does the second stanza create?	curious, mysterious
3	How does the last stanza feel?	a little sad / wistful; the mystery is never solved
4	Five senses	sight, sound, smell, taste, touch
5	A mood word	spooky, peaceful, tense, cheerful
6	List three sensory details from the poem and the sense each appeals to.	salt/tar/rope (smell), cracked and worn (sight/touch), rusty lock (sight).
7	The poet ends the second stanza with “A single, tangled sock?” How does this line change the mood?	It adds humor; the mood becomes playful.
8	Find a sensory detail in Chapter 1 that creates a scary or tense mood. Explain.	Answers vary, e.g. Blind Pew's tapping stick.
9	Write two sentences describing the Admiral Benbow inn at night with a spooky mood. Use two senses.	Answers vary.

- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 4.4, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 4.4 (Parts B–E).

Why do sailors have special words for the front, back, left, and right?

Informational texts use content words about the topic. Authors often define them in the text, show them in diagrams, or give clues. Use these words when you write about the topic.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Life Aboard a Sailing Ship

An original informational text

1 In the 1700s, sailing ships carried goods, passengers, and sometimes treasure across the oceans. A ship's crew had to know many special words.

2 The front of the ship was the bow, and the back was the stern. Facing the bow, the left side was called port and the right side was starboard. Tall poles called masts held up the sails.

3 Sailors slept below the deck in hammocks, cloth beds that swung from the ceiling. Food was cooked in the galley, the ship's kitchen. It was usually hard biscuits and salted meat, because fresh food spoiled on long voyages.

4 Each sailor had a job. Some climbed the rigging, the ropes that held up the masts and sails. Others steered, cooked, or mended sails. The captain was in charge of everyone, and disobeying an order could mean harsh punishment.

MODEL · USE THE TEXT'S DEFINITION

What are hammocks?

1 Paragraph 3 defines them right after a comma.

Model answer: cloth beds that swing from the ceiling

★ KEY IDEA

Look for definitions, diagrams, and context for content words, then use the words yourself.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Why might sailors say port instead of left?

Answer: Left changes depending on which way you face; port always means the same side of the ship.

2. Where was food cooked?

Answer: in the galley

3. What did sailors eat? Why?

Answer: hard biscuits and salted meat; fresh food spoiled

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.4

#	Question	Answer
1	Why might sailors say port instead of left?	Left changes depending on which way you face; port always means the same side of the ship.
2	Where was food cooked?	in the galley
3	What did sailors eat? Why?	hard biscuits and salted meat; fresh food spoiled
4	Front of a ship	bow

How would the same story look as a poem, a play, and a chapter?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 2: The Sea Chest and the Blind Man · pages 10–21

As you read, think about: What do Jim and his mother find in the chest? What happens when the pirates arrive?

Stories can be written as prose (sentences and paragraphs), poems (lines and stanzas, often with rhythm and rhyme), or drama (a cast list, dialogue after characters' names, and stage directions).

READING · DRAMA

The Captain's Warning: A Scene

An original scene inspired by Treasure Island

CHARACTERS: JIM, a boy who works at the inn · THE CAPTAIN, an old sailor · MOTHER, Jim's mother

(The Admiral Benbow inn. Night. Wind howls outside. THE CAPTAIN sits by the fire, gripping his mug.)

CAPTAIN: (in a low voice) Jim, come here, lad. You keep your weather-eye open, you hear?

JIM: For what, Captain?

CAPTAIN: For a seafaring man with one leg. If you see him, you tell me first. I'll pay you a silver fourpenny every month.

MOTHER: (entering with a tray) Jim! Stop bothering the guest and fetch more wood.

JIM: (to the audience) But I couldn't stop thinking about that one-legged man. That night, I dreamed of him chasing me across the moor.

	Prose	Poem	Drama
Organized in	paragraphs	lines and stanzas	scenes and lines of dialogue
Special features	narrator	rhythm, rhyme	cast list, stage directions
Example	Treasure Island Reader	"The Sea Chest"	"The Captain's Warning"

MODEL · FIND DRAMA FEATURES

"The Captain's Warning"

1 Cast of characters at the top.

2 Stage directions in italics and parentheses: (in a low voice).

3 Dialogue follows names in capitals; no quotation marks.

Lesson 4.6: Writing a Scene: From Story to Drama

STUDENT'S ASSIGNMENT

- [ ] Read Lesson 4.6 in this book with your teacher.
- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 4.6, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 4.6 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

What changes when you turn a chapter into a play?

To turn prose into drama: list the cast, set the scene in stage directions, turn the narration into dialogue and actions, and remove the narrator's explanations.

MODEL · PROSE TO DRAMA

Prose: Jim's mother was frightened, but she insisted on taking only the money they were owed.

1 Cast: JIM, MOTHER.

2 Stage direction: (Mother's hands shake as she counts coins.)

3 Dialogue: MOTHER: I'm an honest woman. I'll take what's owed and not a penny more.

Model answer: MOTHER: (hands shaking as she counts coins) I'm an honest woman, Jim. I'll take what we're owed and not a penny more.

★ KEY IDEA

In drama, show feelings through dialogue and stage directions instead of a narrator.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What replaces the narrator in a play?

Answer: dialogue and stage directions

2. Where do you list characters?

Answer: at the top, in the cast of characters

3. How do you show a character is scared in a play?

Answer: stage directions (trembling) and dialogue

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.6

#	Question	Answer
1	What replaces the narrator in a play?	dialogue and stage directions
2	Where do you list characters?	at the top, in the cast of characters
3	How do you show a character is scared in a play?	stage directions (trembling) and dialogue
4	Two parts of drama	dialogue, stage directions
5	Punctuation for stage directions	parentheses (and italics)
6	Turn a moment from Chapter 2 into a short play scene (8–12 lines). Include a cast list, a setting stage direction, dialogue, and at least two more stage directions.	Answers vary. 1 point each: cast list; setting; dialogue matches the chapter; two stage directions; correct format.
7	What was hardest about turning prose into drama?	Answers vary.

GET READY

Why might an author organize information in time order instead of by problem and solution?

Authors choose a structure that fits their purpose. Signal words help you identify it.

Structure	Signal words
Chronological	first, then, in 1716, later, finally
Compare and contrast	both, however, on the other hand, unlike, similarly
Cause and effect	because, so, as a result, therefore
Problem and solution	problem, to solve, solution, fixed

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Four Paragraphs About Life at Sea

Original informational paragraphs

1 The pirate Blackbeard began sailing around 1716. By 1717, he had captured a large French ship and renamed it Queen Anne's Revenge. In 1718, he blockaded the port of Charleston. Later that year, he was defeated in a battle off the coast of North Carolina.

2 Pirates and navy sailors both lived on ships and faced storms and disease. However, navy sailors worked for a government and were paid regular wages. Pirates, on the other hand, often voted for their captain and shared the treasure they stole.

3 Because sailors ate few fruits and vegetables on long voyages, many developed a disease called scurvy. As a result, their gums bled and they grew weak. When sailors began carrying limes and lemons, scurvy became much less common.

4 Ships often wrecked on rocky coasts at night. To solve this problem, people built lighthouses with bright lamps on high towers. The light warned sailors to steer away from danger.

MODEL · IDENTIFY THE STRUCTURE

Paragraph 3

1 Signal words: Because, As a result, When...

2 It explains why scurvy happened and what fixed it.

Model answer: Cause and effect

★ KEY IDEA

Find signal words, then ask: Is the author telling order, comparing, explaining causes, or solving a problem?

✎ YOUR TURN

GET READY

Why would an author write an advertisement? A science article? A ghost story?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 3: The Real Adventure Begins · pages 22–33

As you read, think about: What do the doctor and squire find in the packet? What do they decide to do?

Authors write to persuade, inform, or entertain (P-I-E). Some texts have more than one purpose. Look at the type of text, word choice, and what the author wants you to do or know.

READING · PERSUASIVE TEXT

WANTED: Brave Sailors!

An original advertisement

1 Are you tired of boring work on land? Join the crew of the finest ship in Bristol, the Hispaniola!

2 Our ship is fast, our captain is fair, and our cook makes the best stew on the seven seas. Every sailor will be paid well, and the voyage will be the adventure of a lifetime.

3 Don't miss this chance. Only the bravest need apply. Sign up at the docks today!

MODEL · IDENTIFY THE PURPOSE

"WANTED: Brave Sailors!"

1 Commands: Join! Sign up today!

2 Positive opinion words: finest, fair, best, adventure of a lifetime.

3 Goal: get readers to join.

Model answer: to persuade

★ KEY IDEA

Persuade → wants you to act or believe. Inform → teaches facts. Entertain → tells a story for enjoyment.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Purpose of "Life Aboard a Sailing Ship"

Answer: inform

2. Purpose of "The Footsteps"

Answer: entertain

3. Which words in the ad are opinions?

Answer: finest, fair, best, adventure of a lifetime

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.9

#	Question	Answer
1	Purpose of "Life Aboard a Sailing Ship"	inform
2	Purpose of "The Footsteps"	entertain
3	Which words in the ad are opinions?	finest, fair, best, adventure of a lifetime
4	P-I-E stands for	persuade, inform, entertain
5	Purpose of a recipe	inform
6	A poster: "Vote for Maria for class president!"	persuade
7	An article on how volcanoes form	inform
8	A funny story about a talking parrot	entertain
9	A letter asking the mayor to build a park	persuade

#	Question	Answer
10	What does the ad leave out that a sailor might want to know? Why might the writer leave it out?	Dangers, hard food, harsh punishment; it would make people not want to join. Connect to Lesson 4.4: harsh punishment, salted meat.
11	What is the purpose of Treasure Island? Explain.	to entertain; it's an exciting adventure story

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 4.10 (Parts B–E).

GET READY

Would you learn something different about a storm from a kid who lived through it than from a news report?

A firsthand account gives feelings and personal details. A secondhand account gives facts, numbers, and a bigger picture. Comparing both gives the fullest understanding.

READING · FIRSTHAND ACCOUNT

Account A: "The Storm Hit Our Town"

An original firsthand account

1 I was nine years old when the hurricane hit our town. I remember the wind screaming like a train all night long. My brother and I huddled in the bathtub with a mattress over our heads while Mom held a flashlight.

2 In the morning, I stepped outside and couldn't believe my eyes. Our big oak tree was lying across the street, and the Johnsons' roof was in our yard. I felt lucky and scared at the same time.

READING · SECONDHAND ACCOUNT

Account B: "Hurricane Strikes Coastal Town"

An original secondhand account (news article)

1 On September 12, a powerful hurricane struck the coastal town of Bayview. Winds reached 120 miles per hour, according to the National Weather Service.

2 More than 200 homes were damaged, and thousands of trees fell. Officials reported that no one was seriously injured, largely because most residents followed instructions to take shelter. Repairs are expected to take several months.

	Account A (firsthand)	Account B (secondhand)
Point of view	first person (I)	third person
Focus	feelings, personal experience	facts, numbers, the whole town
Example detail	wind "screaming like a train"	winds of 120 mph

★ KEY IDEA

Firsthand: feelings and personal view. Secondhand: facts and the bigger picture.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Which account tells how the writer felt?

Answer: Account A

2. Which gives the wind speed?

Answer: Account B

3. Is a diary firsthand or secondhand?

Answer: firsthand

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.10

#	Question	Answer
1	Which account tells how the writer felt?	Account A
2	Which gives the wind speed?	Account B
3	Is a diary firsthand or secondhand?	firsthand

#	Question	Answer
4	Pronouns in a firsthand account	I, we
5	Is an encyclopedia firsthand?	No, secondhand
6	What does Account A tell you that Account B does not?	personal feelings: fear, huddling in the tub, feeling lucky and scared
7	What does Account B tell you that Account A does not?	facts: date, wind speed, 200 homes damaged, no serious injuries, repairs take months
8	Why is it useful to read both?	Together they give feelings and facts, a full picture.
9	Is Treasure Island told as a firsthand or secondhand account? How do you know?	Firsthand: Jim tells it as "I."
10	Write two sentences giving a firsthand account of something that happened this week.	Answers vary; uses I/we.

What makes you want to keep turning pages?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 4: What I Heard in the Apple Barrel · pages 34–43

As you read, think about: What does Jim overhear? How does the author make this chapter tense?

Authors build suspense with short sentences, sensory details, slow pacing at tense moments, characters hiding or waiting, and cliffhangers at the ends of chapters.

READING · REALISTIC FICTION

The Footsteps

An original story

1 Ana was alone in the library after closing. The lights buzzed. Rain tapped the tall windows.

2 Then she heard it: a footstep. Then another. Slow. Heavy. Coming closer.

3 She held her breath and crouched behind the shelf of atlases. The footsteps stopped right beside her. A shadow stretched across the floor.

4 "Ana?" said a familiar voice. It was Mr. Diaz, the custodian, holding an umbrella. "Your mom is waiting outside." Ana let out her breath in a laugh so loud it echoed off the ceiling.

MODEL · FIND SUSPENSE TECHNIQUES

"Then she heard it: a footstep. Then another. Slow. Heavy. Coming closer."

1 Short sentences and fragments slow the reader.

2 Sound details (footsteps) build tension.

3 "Coming closer" makes us worry.

Model answer: Short sentences and sound details build suspense.

★ KEY IDEA

Short sentences, sensory details, hiding, waiting, and cliffhangers build suspense.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Why is the setting spooky?

Answer: alone after closing; buzzing lights; rain

2. How is the suspense released?

Answer: The footsteps are Mr. Diaz, the custodian.

3. Why is Jim's hiding place in Chapter 4 suspenseful?

Answer: If Silver finds him listening, he could be in danger.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.13

#	Question	Answer
1	Why is the setting spooky?	alone after closing; buzzing lights; rain
2	How is the suspense released?	The footsteps are Mr. Diaz, the custodian.
3	Why is Jim's hiding place in Chapter 4 suspenseful?	If Silver finds him listening, he could be in danger.
4	What is suspense?	worry about what will happen next
5	What is a cliffhanger?	an ending that leaves you in suspense
6	List three techniques the author uses to build suspense. Give an example of each.	short sentences ("Slow. Heavy."), sensory details (lights buzzed, rain tapped), hiding (crouched behind the shelf), shadow
7	Why does the author have Ana laugh at the end?	to release the tension; she was relieved

#	Question	Answer
8	What does Jim overhear in the apple barrel? How does the author make the moment tense?	Silver plotting mutiny to take the treasure; Jim hiding, can't move, hearing dangerous plans.
9	Write a two-sentence cliffhanger.	Answers vary.

GET READY

Have you ever seen a movie of a book and thought, “That's not how I pictured it”?

Illustrators, actors, and filmmakers make choices about how characters look and sound. Compare what the text says with what the picture or performance shows. What did the artist add, change, or leave out?

MODEL · COMPARE

Text: the captain has “a tarry pigtail,” a “soiled blue coat,” and a “sabre cut across one cheek.” Look at the illustration of the captain in your Reader.

1 Check each detail: pigtail? blue coat? scar?

2 What did the illustrator add (a hat? a parrot?)

3 Does the picture match the mood?

Model answer: Answers depend on the Reader's illustration; list matches and differences.

★ KEY IDEA

Compare the text's details with the illustration or performance: what matches, what was added, what was left out?

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Name two details from the text to look for in the illustration.

Answer: pigtail, blue coat, sabre scar, sea chest

2. What is an interpretation?

Answer: an artist's own way of showing a text

3. Why might an illustrator add details?

Answer: to show mood or make the picture interesting

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.14

#	Question	Answer
1	Name two details from the text to look for in the illustration.	pigtail, blue coat, sabre scar, sea chest
2	What is an interpretation?	an artist's own way of showing a text
3	Why might an illustrator add details?	to show mood or make the picture interesting
4	What is an illustration?	a picture that goes with a text
5	Movie of a book: does it always match?	No
6	Choose an illustration from Chapters 1–4 of your Reader. List two details that match the text.	Answers vary.
7	List one thing the illustrator added or changed.	Answers vary.
8	Draw your own picture of Long John Silver using details from Chapter 3 or 4. Label two details from the text.	Answers vary; labeled details from the text.
9	Listen to someone read part of Chapter 4 aloud with expression. What did their voice add that the page alone doesn't?	Answers vary: mood, emotion, tension.

Are the pirates in Treasure Island like real pirates?

A story and an informational text can teach different things about the same topic. Fiction may exaggerate or invent details for excitement. Informational texts give facts.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Real Pirates of the Golden Age

An original informational text

1 From about 1690 to 1730, so many pirates sailed the oceans that historians call it the Golden Age of Piracy. Pirates attacked ships carrying gold, silver, sugar, and cloth.

2 Real pirates were very different from the pirates in stories. Most did not bury their treasure; they spent it quickly. There is little evidence that pirates made prisoners walk the plank. And treasure maps marked with an X were mostly invented by writers.

3 Pirate ships often had written rules. Crews voted on important decisions, and treasure was divided by shares. A captain who was unfair could be voted out.

4 Life as a pirate was dangerous and usually short. Many pirates were captured and punished. By 1730, navies had driven most pirates from the seas.

MODEL · COMPARE

Treasure maps

1 Treasure Island: the story centers on a treasure map with an X.

2 Informational text: treasure maps "were mostly invented by writers."

3 Real pirates usually spent treasure quickly.

Model answer: Stevenson's story made treasure maps famous, but real pirates rarely buried treasure or drew maps.

★ KEY IDEA

Compare fiction and nonfiction: What's the same? What did the story invent or exaggerate?

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Did real pirates usually bury treasure?

Answer: No; they spent it quickly.

2. How did pirate crews make decisions?

Answer: They voted.

3. What did the story invent that real pirates rarely had?

Answer: treasure maps marked with X / buried treasure

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 4.15

#	Question	Answer
1	Did real pirates usually bury treasure?	No; they spent it quickly.
2	How did pirate crews make decisions?	They voted.
3	What did the story invent that real pirates rarely had?	treasure maps marked with X / buried treasure
4	Fiction or nonfiction: Treasure Island	fiction
5	Fiction or nonfiction: "Real Pirates"	nonfiction
6	How are Long John Silver's plans similar to what real pirates did?	He plans to take over the ship and its treasure; real pirates attacked ships for treasure and voted on leaders.
7	Name one way Treasure Island differs from real pirate history. Use evidence from the informational text.	Buried treasure and a map; the text says most pirates did not bury treasure and maps were mostly invented.

#	Question	Answer
8	Why do you think writers invented buried treasure and treasure maps?	They make stories more exciting and mysterious.

What words help readers follow a comparison?

A comparison paragraph has a topic sentence naming both texts and the point of comparison, details from each text, comparison transitions (both, similarly, however, unlike, on the other hand), and a conclusion.

MODEL · COMPARISON PARAGRAPH

Compare pirates in Treasure Island and "Real Pirates of the Golden Age."

1 Topic sentence: Both texts are about pirates, but they show them differently.

2 Similar: both describe pirates who want treasure.

3 Different: Treasure Island has a buried treasure map; real pirates rarely buried treasure.

4 Conclusion.

Model answer: Both Treasure Island and "Real Pirates of the Golden Age" show pirates hunting for treasure. However, Treasure Island centers on a buried treasure and a map, while the informational text explains that real pirates usually spent their treasure quickly. The story makes pirates exciting, but the article shows they were real people with rules and dangerous lives.

★ KEY IDEA

Name both texts, use comparison transitions, and give evidence from each.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Name two comparison transitions.

Answer: both, similarly, however, unlike

2. What must the topic sentence include?

Answer: both texts and the point of comparison

3. How many texts need evidence?

Answers

#	Question	Answer
1	"The fog rolled in thick and gray, swallowing the harbor whole." What does "swallowing" mean here?	covering it completely so it couldn't be seen
2	List two sensory details in paragraph 2 and the mood they create.	sails in rags, green moss, no lanterns, no sound; spooky/eerie
3	Explain two techniques the author uses to build suspense in paragraphs 1–3.	fog hiding things; silence; slow-drifting ship; Tomás's whisper and white knuckles
4	"Hard to starboard!" means turn the ship... A. left B. right C. around backward	B. right
5	What does Tomás's grip on the rail show?	He was terrified.
6	This story is told in... A. first person B. third person	B. third person
7	How does the last paragraph change the mood?	The mystery is explained; fear turns to relief (with a little humor about Tomás).
8	How do Captain Rosa and Tomás see the ship differently?	Rosa is scared but stays calm and acts; Tomás believes it's a ghost ship.
9	What is the author's main purpose? A. to persuade B. to inform C. to entertain	C. to entertain
10	Rewrite paragraphs 3–4 as a short drama scene with a cast list, stage directions, and dialogue. Then write one sentence explaining what the stage directions show about the characters.	Rubric: cast list (1); stage directions (1); dialogue faithful to the story (1); correct drama format (1); explanation sentence (1).

UNIT 5 · TEACHER OVERVIEW

Reading Deeply

Long stories and articles, text features, comparing structure and viewpoint, and the comparison essay, with Treasure Island Chapters 5–7.

As Jim Hawkins explores Treasure Island, you'll explore longer, richer texts: a survival story, an article about how sailors navigated, letters, lighthouse histories, and the Blackbeard selection. You'll analyze plot and character in depth, use text features and visuals, compare texts, and write your first full comparison essay.

Big ideas

- Identify plot structure and analyze characters and settings in depth.
- Use text features, charts, and timelines to understand informational texts.
- Compare the structures and narrators of stories and the focus of informational texts.
- Plan, draft, and revise a compare-and-contrast essay.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.3, RL.4.5	Describe characters, settings, and events in depth; explain story structure.
RL.4.6, RI.4.6	Compare points of view and accounts.
RI.4.7, RI.4.9	Interpret visual information; integrate information from two texts.
W.4.2, W.4.5, W.4.9, SL.4.4	Write and present organized comparisons with evidence.

What students should already know

- Unit 4: text structure and point of view.

READING · ADVENTURE STORY

The Castaway of Pelican Key

An original story

1 The storm had wrecked the little supply boat, and when Eli woke, he was lying on warm sand with seaweed tangled in his hair. The boat was gone. The crew was gone. All he could see was a curve of white beach, a cluster of palm trees, and the endless blue ocean.

2 "Hello?" he called. Only the pelicans answered, squawking from the rocks.

3 For the first few days, Eli was too frightened to do anything but sit and stare at the horizon, hoping to see a sail. But his stomach growled, and his lips cracked from thirst. He knew that if he waited much longer, he would not survive.

4 So he made a plan. He followed the pelicans to a freshwater pool behind the rocks. He cracked coconuts with a heavy stone. He wove palm fronds into a roof and built a shelter against the cliff. Every morning, he scratched a line on a flat rock to count the days.

5 By the thirtieth line, Eli had become a different boy. His arms were brown and strong. He could catch fish with a sharpened stick and build a fire with dry grass and two stones. He even talked to the pelicans, naming the biggest one Captain.

6 Still, every evening, he climbed the cliff to watch the sea. And on the forty-second evening, he saw it: a white sail, tiny as a gull's feather, far out on the water.

7 Eli piled every branch he could find on the cliff top and lit the biggest fire he had ever made. Smoke climbed into the orange sky. The sail grew larger. It turned toward the island.

8 When the sailors rowed ashore, they found a tall, sunburned boy waiting on the beach with a pelican at his side. "We thought you were lost," said the captain. Eli smiled. "I was," he said. "But I found my way."

MODEL · FIND THE CLIMAX

"The Castaway of Pelican Key"

1 Rising action: Eli finds water, builds shelter, survives 42 days.

2 Turning point: he sees the sail and lights the fire; will they see it?

3 After: the boat turns and rows ashore.

Model answer: The climax is when Eli lights the signal fire and the sail turns toward the island.

★ KEY IDEA

Exposition → rising action → climax → falling action → resolution.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Exposition of the story

Answer: Eli wakes alone on an island after a storm wrecked his boat.

2. One rising-action event

Answer: finding fresh water; building a shelter; learning to fish

3. Resolution

Answer: Sailors rescue Eli; he says he “found his way.”

1	Exposition of the story	Eli wakes alone on an island after a storm wrecked his boat.
2	One rising-action event	finding fresh water; building a shelter; learning to fish
3	Resolution	Sailors rescue Eli; he says he “found his way.”
4	The turning point is the…	climax
5	The beginning that introduces characters is the…	exposition
6	Exposition:	Eli wakes alone on the beach of an island after a storm.
7	Rising action (two events):	He finds water, builds a shelter, counts days, learns to fish and make fire.
8	Climax:	He sees a sail and lights a huge signal fire.
9	Falling action:	The sail grows larger and turns toward the island.

#	Question	Answer
10	Resolution:	Sailors find him; he is rescued, changed and confident.
11	Describe the man Jim meets in Chapter 5. What is surprising about him?	Ben Gunn, a marooned man who has lived alone on the island for years; he looks wild and craves cheese. Accept accurate details from Chapter 5.
12	Why does the story end with “I found my way”? What does Eli mean?	He survived on his own and grew stronger and braver; he found his way in life, not just home.

Would "The Castaway of Pelican Key" work if it happened in a city?

Setting is more than a backdrop. It can create problems (a storm, an island), shape what characters can do, and affect the mood.

MODEL · SETTING AND PLOT

How does the island setting shape the story?

1 Problem: Eli is alone with no food or shelter.

2 Actions: he must use what the island has: coconuts, palm fronds, fish.

3 Change: surviving there makes him stronger.

Model answer: The island creates Eli's problem, determines how he survives, and causes him to grow.

3	What mood does a deserted island create?	lonely, mysterious, dangerous
4	What is setting?	when and where a story happens
5	Setting of Treasure Island Ch. 5	the island
6	Choose two details of the island setting in Chapter 5. Explain how each affects Jim or Ben Gunn.	Answers vary.
7	How would Eli's story change if it took place in a snowy forest?	Different problems (cold), different survival actions (shelter for warmth), possibly a different mood.
8	Why do you think so many adventure stories take place on islands?	Islands isolate characters, create danger and mystery, and force them to solve problems.

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 5.4 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

How can you summarize a story that took you a whole week to read?

Use the plot arc as a summary plan: one sentence for the exposition, one or two for the rising action, one for the climax, and one for the resolution. Leave out minor details.

MODEL · PLOT-ARC SUMMARY

"The Castaway of Pelican Key"

1 Exposition: After a storm, Eli washes up alone on an island.

2 Rising action: Scared at first, he learns to find water, build a shelter, and fish.

3 Climax: On the 42nd evening, he sees a sail and lights a signal fire.

4 Resolution: Sailors rescue him, and he realizes he has grown.

Model answer: After a storm, Eli washes up alone on an island. Scared at first, he learns to find water, build a shelter, and fish. On the forty-second evening, he spots a sail and lights a huge signal fire. Sailors rescue him, and Eli realizes he has grown strong and brave.

★ KEY IDEA

Plot-arc summary: exposition, rising action, climax, resolution, in four or five sentences.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How many sentences for a plot-arc summary?

Answer: about four or five

2. Include that Eli named a pelican?

Answer: No, it's a minor detail.

3. What part of the plot is the most important to include?

Answer: the climax (and resolution)

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.4

#	Question	Answer
1	How many sentences for a plot-arc summary?	about four or five

Finding the Way: How Sailors Navigated

An original informational text

Lost at Sea

Today, ships use satellites to know exactly where they are. But for most of history, sailors crossed oceans with no land in sight and no GPS. How did they find their way? They used the sky, simple tools, and a great deal of skill.

Reading the Stars

In the Northern Hemisphere, sailors relied on the North Star, also called Polaris. Unlike other stars, it barely moves across the night sky. By measuring how high Polaris was above the horizon, a navigator could tell how far north the ship was. This measurement is called latitude.

The Compass

A compass has a magnetized needle that always points north. Chinese inventors were using compasses by around 1100, and the tool soon spread to sailors in Europe. With a compass, sailors could keep a steady direction even on cloudy nights when the stars were hidden.

Measuring Speed

To figure out how fast a ship was moving, sailors tossed a piece of wood tied to a long rope over the side. The rope had knots tied at equal distances. A sailor counted how many knots slipped through his hands while a small sand timer ran out. That is why a ship's speed is still measured in knots today.

Putting It Together

By combining direction, speed, and time, a navigator could estimate the ship's position on a map. This method, called dead reckoning, was not perfect. A strong current or a storm could push a ship far off course. That is why sailors on long voyages always watched for birds, floating plants, and changes in the color of the water, all signs that land might be near.

MODEL · USE HEADINGS

Where would you look to learn why speed is measured in knots?

1 Scan the headings.

2 "Measuring Speed" fits.

Model answer: the section "Measuring Speed"

★ KEY IDEA

Preview text features first. Use headings to find information; use bold words for key vocabulary.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Which section explains the compass?

Answer: "The Compass"

2. Name a bold word and its meaning.

Answer: latitude: how far north; knots: speed; dead reckoning: estimating position

3. What is the purpose of headings?

Answer: to tell what each section is about

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.5

#	Question	Answer
1	Which section explains the compass?	"The Compass"
2	Name a bold word and its meaning.	latitude: how far north; knots: speed; dead reckoning: estimating position
3	What is the purpose of headings?	to tell what each section is about
4	Words that explain a picture	caption
5	A title for a section	heading
6	List the five headings. Under which heading would you find information about storms pushing ships off course?	Lost at Sea; Reading the Stars; The Compass; Measuring Speed; Putting It Together. Storms: Putting It Together.
7	Why was the North Star useful? Use the text.	It barely moves, so measuring its height told sailors their latitude.

#	Question	Answer
8	What is dead reckoning, and why wasn't it perfect?	estimating position from direction, speed, and time; currents and storms could push ships off course
9	List three text features in the Blackbeard selection and what each taught you.	Answers vary.

GET READY

Why might an author add a timeline instead of just writing the dates in a paragraph?

Visual information lets readers see patterns quickly. Read the title, labels, and every row or point. Then ask: What does this show that the words don't?

Navigation tool	Invented or first used	What it measured
Compass	China, about 1100	direction
Astrolabe	used at sea by the 1400s	height of stars or sun (latitude)
Log and line (knots)	1500s	speed
Chronometer (sea clock)	1700s	time, which helped find longitude

Chart: Tools Sailors Used

Timeline: How Navigation Changed

MODEL · USE THE CHART

Which tool helped sailors find longitude?

1 Find the column "What it measured."

2 Row: chronometer: time, which helped find longitude.

Model answer: the chronometer (sea clock)

★ KEY IDEA

Read titles and labels first. Explain what the visual adds to the text.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What did an astrolabe measure?

Answer: height of stars or sun (latitude)

2. Which came first: knots or the chronometer?

Answer: knots (1500s)

3. What does the timeline show that the article doesn't?

Answer: how navigation kept changing up to GPS today

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.6

#	Question	Answer
1	What did an astrolabe measure?	height of stars or sun (latitude)
2	Which came first: knots or the chronometer?	knots (1500s)
3	What does the timeline show that the article doesn't?	how navigation kept changing up to GPS today
4	Rows and columns =	chart
5	Events in order on a line =	timeline
6	Oldest tool on the chart	compass
7	Tool for measuring speed	log and line (knots)
8	When was GPS developed?	1990s
9	How many years between the compass and the chronometer (about)?	about 600 years
10	How does the chart add to “Finding the Way”?	It adds tools and dates the article doesn't mention (astrolabe, chronometer) and organizes them by what they measured.
11	Make a three-event timeline of your own day.	Answers vary.

GET READY

How is the main idea of one section different from the main idea of the whole article?

In a long text with headings, each section has its own main idea. The main idea of the whole text connects them all.

Section	Main idea
Reading the Stars	Sailors measured the North Star to find latitude.
The Compass	A compass helped sailors keep direction.
Measuring Speed	Knotted ropes measured speed.
Putting It Together	Sailors combined these to estimate position, though it wasn't perfect.
Whole text	Before GPS, sailors used the sky, simple tools, and skill to navigate.

★ KEY IDEA

Section main ideas are the building blocks; the whole-text main idea connects them.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Main idea of “Lost at Sea”

Answer: Sailors navigated without GPS using the sky, tools, and skill.

2. Which section's main idea is about direction?

Answer: The Compass

3. Main idea of the whole text

Answer: Before GPS, sailors used the sky, simple tools, and skill to find their way.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.7

#	Question	Answer
1	Main idea of “Lost at Sea”	Sailors navigated without GPS using the sky, tools, and skill.
2	Which section's main idea is about direction?	The Compass
3	Main idea of the whole text	Before GPS, sailors used the sky, simple tools, and skill to find their way.
4	Does each section have a main idea?	Yes
5	What connects section main ideas?	the main idea of the whole text
6	Write the main idea of two sections of the Blackbeard selection.	Answers vary.
7	Write the main idea of the whole selection.	Answers vary.
8	Summarize “Finding the Way” in three sentences using the section main ideas.	Before GPS, sailors used the North Star to find latitude and a compass to keep direction. They measured speed with knotted ropes. Combining these, they estimated their position, though storms could push them off course.

If you had to teach a younger child about navigation, what would you include?

Integrate means using the words, the chart, and the timeline together. Good explanations use details from each source and name where they came from.

MODEL · INTEGRATE

How did navigation tools improve over time?

1 Article: compass for direction; knots for speed; dead reckoning not perfect.

2 Chart: astrolabe and chronometer added latitude and longitude.

3 Timeline: radio and GPS made it exact.

Model answer: Navigation improved from the compass and star measurements, to tools like the chronometer for longitude, to radio and finally GPS, which shows exact location.

★ KEY IDEA

Combine words and visuals; name your sources.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Which source tells about GPS?

Answer: the timeline (and the first section)

2. Which source explains dead reckoning?

Answer: the article

3. What does integrate mean?

Answer: combine information from different sources

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.8

GET READY

How would a story feel different if it were told in letters instead of by a narrator?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 6: The Plan · pages 52–61

As you read, think about: What is the plan? Who makes it?

Stories can be structured as a continuous narrative, as letters or journal entries (epistolary), or as a play. The structure affects what readers know and how they feel.

READING · EPISTOLARY STORY

Letters from Camp

An original story told in letters

July 2. Dear Mom and Dad, Camp is okay, I guess. The food is weird and my bunk is squeaky. A boy named Theo snores like a bear. I miss home. Love, Sam

July 5. Dear Mom and Dad, Today we went canoeing! Theo and I tipped over in the middle of the lake, and we laughed so hard we couldn't swim for a minute. The counselor said we were the soggiest team she'd ever seen. Love, Sam

July 9. Dear Mom and Dad, Can I stay for a second session? Theo is staying, and we're building a raft. Also, I don't even notice the squeaky bunk anymore. Love, Sam

MODEL · COMPARE STRUCTURES

"Letters from Camp" vs "The Castaway of Pelican Key"

1 Letters: dated entries; we see only what Sam writes; time skips between letters.

2 Castaway: a narrator describes everything; scenes flow continuously.

3 Effect: letters feel personal; the narrative gives a fuller picture.

Model answer: Letters make the story personal and let readers infer what happened between them; the narrative tells a fuller, continuous story.

★ KEY IDEA

Structure affects what readers know and how they feel. Compare how each story is put together.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How do we learn time passes in "Letters from Camp"?

Answer: the dates

2. How does Sam change?

Answer: from homesick to wanting to stay

3. What must readers infer between letters?

Answer: what happened at camp, such as his friendship with Theo growing

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.9

#	Question	Answer
1	How do we learn time passes in "Letters from Camp"?	the dates
2	How does Sam change?	from homesick to wanting to stay
3	What must readers infer between letters?	what happened at camp, such as his friendship with Theo growing
4	Epistolary means told through...	letters or journals
5	Structure of a play	cast, dialogue, stage directions
6	How does Sam's attitude toward Theo change across the letters? Use evidence.	Letter 1: Theo snores like a bear (annoying). Letter 2: they laugh together. Letter 3: they're building a raft; Sam wants to stay.

#	Question	Answer
7	Compare the structures of “Letters from Camp” and “The Castaway.” How does each structure affect the reader?	Letters: personal, gaps to infer. Narrative: full, continuous, vivid descriptions.

When two people tell the same story, why can both versions sound true?

Two first-person narrators may tell the same event very differently. Each narrator includes what matters to them and leaves out what doesn't.

READING · FIRST-PERSON NARRATOR

The Broken Vase · Told by Leo

An original example

I swear I didn't mean to. I was just practicing my soccer kick in the hallway, the ball bounced off the wall, and the vase wobbled and fell. When Mom came in, I froze. My sister pointed at me before I could say a word. Thanks a lot, Mia.

READING · FIRST-PERSON NARRATOR

The Broken Vase · Told by Mia

An original example

I told Leo a hundred times not to kick the ball inside. Then I heard a crash. When Mom walked in, Leo looked like a statue, so I pointed. Somebody had to tell the truth. Later, I helped him glue the pieces back together, because that's what sisters do.

MODEL · COMPARE NARRATORS

Leo vs Mia

1 Leo: focuses on not meaning to; feels betrayed (“Thanks a lot, Mia”).

2 Mia: focuses on warning him; telling the truth; helping glue the vase.

Model answer: Each narrator makes themselves sound reasonable. Mia includes that she helped; Leo doesn't know or mention it.

★ KEY IDEA

Ask: What does each narrator include, leave out, and feel? Why?

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does Leo leave out?

Answer: that Mia had warned him (and that she helped later)

2. Why did Mia point?

Answer: Somebody had to tell the truth.

3. Who is the more reliable narrator? Explain.

Answer: Answers vary; Mia includes more facts, but both are biased.

- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 5.11, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 5.11 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

Two books about volcanoes: why might they still teach you different things?

Two texts on the same topic can have different focus (people vs how something works) and different structures. Reading both gives a fuller picture.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Text A: The Keepers of the Light

An original informational text

1 In the 1800s, lighthouse keepers lived lonely lives on rocky islands and windy points. Every evening, the keeper climbed the tower to light the lamp, and every few hours through the night, he or she climbed again to trim the wick and refill the oil.

2 Some keepers became heroes. In 1838, Grace Darling, the daughter of an English keeper, rowed through a storm with her father to rescue survivors of a shipwreck. Her bravery made her famous.

3 Many keepers were women. When a keeper died, his wife or daughter often took over the job, and some served for decades.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Text B: How a Lighthouse Works

An original informational text

1 A lighthouse has three main parts: a tall tower, a lamp, and a lens. The tower raises the light so it can be seen far out at sea, because the earth curves and a low light would be hidden below the horizon.

2 The lens is the most important part. In 1822, a French scientist named Augustin Fresnel designed a lens made of many glass rings. It bent and focused the light into a strong beam that could be seen more than 20 miles away.

3 Each lighthouse flashes in its own pattern, such as two flashes every ten seconds. Sailors use these patterns to tell which lighthouse they are seeing, and therefore where they are.

	Text A	Text B
Focus	the people who kept lighthouses	how lighthouses work
Structure	description with examples	parts explained in order
Key detail	Grace Darling's rescue (1838)	Fresnel lens (1822)

★ KEY IDEA

Compare focus, structure, and details. Together, two texts give a fuller understanding.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Focus of Text A

Answer: lighthouse keepers

2. Focus of Text B

Answer: how lighthouses work

3. Why was the tower tall?

Answer: so the light could be seen over the curve of the earth

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 5.11

#	Question	Answer
1	Focus of Text A	lighthouse keepers
2	Focus of Text B	how lighthouses work
3	Why was the tower tall?	so the light could be seen over the curve of the earth
4	What is focus?	the part of a topic a text pays most attention to
5	Same topic of both texts	lighthouses
6	Why did keepers climb the tower several times a night? (Text A) How might the Fresnel lens have changed keepers' work? (Text B + your thinking)	To trim the wick and refill the oil; the lens made a stronger beam from the same lamp.
7	What do you learn from reading both texts that you wouldn't learn from just one?	both the human story and the science of lighthouses
8	How do flash patterns help sailors?	Each lighthouse has its own pattern, so sailors know which one they see and where they are.

What makes a speaker sound like an expert?

Use details from both texts, organize your talk (introduction, two or three facts, conclusion), speak clearly at a good pace, and look at your audience.

- Start with a hook: a question or surprising fact.
- Give two or three facts from each text.
- End with a conclusion or something to think about.
- Practice aloud twice before presenting.

★ KEY IDEA

Organize, use evidence from both texts, and speak clearly.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Good hook for a lighthouse talk

Answer: e.g. Did you know a lighthouse beam could be seen 20 miles away?

2. How many texts should facts come from?

Answer: both

3. Name a speaking skill.

Answer: eye contact, clear voice, steady pace

GET READY

How would you organize an essay comparing cats and dogs?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 7: "Shiver Me Timbers" · pages 62–71

As you read, think about: What happens to Jim in this chapter? How is he like or unlike the castaways you've read about?

A comparison essay can use block or point-by-point structure. Both need an introduction with a thesis, body paragraphs with evidence, and a conclusion.

Block structure	Point-by-point structure
Intro	Intro
Body 1: Eli (survival, change)	Body 1: How they survived (Eli and Ben Gunn)
Body 2: Ben Gunn (survival, change)	Body 2: How loneliness changed them (Eli and Ben Gunn)
Conclusion	Conclusion

MODEL · THESIS

Compare Eli and Ben Gunn.

1 Name both subjects.

2 Say how they are alike and different.

Model answer: Eli and Ben Gunn were both castaways, but while Eli grew stronger and calmer, Ben Gunn's years alone left him wild and strange.

★ KEY IDEA

Choose block or point-by-point; start with a thesis that names both subjects.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Which structure compares one point at a time?

MODEL · VENN TO OUTLINE

Eli and Jim

1 Both: face danger alone, show courage, use their wits.

2 Eli only: alone 42 days on an island.

3 Jim only: involved with pirates, the treasure, and adults.

Model answer: Outline: Intro (thesis) → Body 1: how both show courage → Body 2: how their situations differ → Conclusion.

★ KEY IDEA

Venn diagram → outline → essay. Every point needs evidence.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Where do similarities go in a Venn diagram?

Answer: in the middle

2. What should each outline point have?

Answer: evidence

3. Name one way Eli and Jim are alike.

Sources and Evidence

Primary and secondary sources, reasons and evidence, opinion writing, diagrams, maps, graphs, and a short research report, with Treasure Island Chapters 8–9.

Jim Hawkins's adventure ends, but yours as a researcher begins. You'll compare sources, judge which ones to trust, weigh reasons and evidence, read diagrams, maps, and graphs, and write both an opinion piece and your own short research report.

Big ideas

- Compare primary and secondary sources and judge reliability.
- Identify and evaluate claims, reasons, and evidence.
- Write an opinion piece with reasons, evidence, linking words, and a conclusion.
- Use and create diagrams, maps, and graphs.
- Research a focused question, organize notes, and write a report with sources.

Standards

Code	Standard
RI.4.6, RI.4.9	Compare accounts; integrate information from two texts.
RI.4.7	Interpret visual information.
RI.4.8	Explain how authors use reasons and evidence.
W.4.1	Write opinion pieces.

GET READY

If you wanted to know what it was really like on a sailing ship in 1789, what would be the best thing to read?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Chapter 8: My Life Hangs in the Balance · pages 72–79

As you read, think about: What danger is Jim in? How does he get out of it?

A primary source comes from the time and place being studied. A secondary source explains or summarizes events later. Primary sources give details and feelings from the moment; secondary sources give background and the big picture.

READING · PRIMARY SOURCE

Source 1: A Ship's Log, 1789 (adapted)

A primary source, adapted for young readers (invented for this lesson)

May 3. Wind from the northeast. Sighted a large whale off the starboard bow at noon. Crew in good health. Our water barrels are half full.

May 4. Heavy rain. Two sailors sick with fever. Caught fresh rainwater in the sails and filled three barrels.

May 5. Clear skies. Land sighted at dawn. All hands cheered.

READING · SECONDARY SOURCE

Source 2: Life on Long Voyages

A secondary source (original informational text)

1 Sailors on long voyages in the 1700s faced many dangers. Fresh water often ran low, so crews collected rainwater whenever they could. Illness spread quickly in the crowded spaces below deck.

2 Historians learn about these voyages by studying ships' logs, letters, and maps written by the sailors themselves.

MODEL · COMPARE

What do Source 1 and Source 2 both show?

1 Source 1: “Caught fresh rainwater in the sails”; “Two sailors sick with fever.”

2 Source 2: crews collected rainwater; illness spread quickly.

Model answer: Both show that water ran low and illness was a danger. The log gives specific day-by-day details; the article explains the big picture.

★ KEY IDEA

Primary = from the time (firsthand). Secondary = written later (explains). Use both.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Is a ship's log primary or secondary?

Answer: primary

2. Is a textbook chapter about pirates primary or secondary?

Answer: secondary

3. What does Source 2 say historians study?

Answer: logs, letters, and maps written by sailors

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 6.1

#	Question	Answer
1	Is a ship's log primary or secondary?	primary
2	Is a textbook chapter about pirates primary or secondary?	secondary
3	What does Source 2 say historians study?	logs, letters, and maps written by sailors
4	Primary source example	diary, letter, photo, log
5	Secondary source example	textbook, encyclopedia, article
6	a photograph taken in 1900	primary
7	an encyclopedia article on the Titanic	secondary
8	a letter from a soldier	primary
9	a biography of Abraham Lincoln written in 2010	secondary
10	Grandma's diary from 1965	primary
11	a website explaining volcanoes	secondary
12	What can you learn from the ship's log that the article doesn't tell?	exact days, weather, the whale, three barrels filled, land sighted, the crew cheering
13	What does the article tell that the log doesn't?	that this was common on many voyages; why illness spread; how historians learn about voyages
14	Is Jim's narration in Treasure Island like a primary source? Explain.	It is written like a firsthand account by someone who was there, but the book is fiction.

When sources agree, you can feel more confident. When they disagree, check who wrote them, when, and why, and look for a third source.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

The Schooner

An original informational text

1 The Hispaniola in Treasure Island is a schooner, a sailing ship with two or more masts. Schooners were popular in the 1700s and 1800s because they were fast and needed a smaller crew than larger ships.

2 Unlike square-rigged ships, whose sails hung across the ship, a schooner's main sails ran along its length, from front to back. This let schooners sail closer to the direction the wind was coming from.

3 A triangular sail called a jib stretched forward from the front mast toward the bow. Sailors adjusted the sails using the rigging, and a rudder at the stern steered the ship.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

From Sail to Steam

An original informational text

1 For thousands of years, ships depended on wind. In the 1800s, inventors began building ships powered by steam engines. Steamships could travel even when the wind died, and they kept to schedules.

2 At first, many ships used both sails and steam. By 1900, steamships carried most passengers and cargo across the oceans, and the great age of sail was ending.

MODEL · FIND AGREEMENT

Do both texts agree that sailing ships depended on wind?

1 Schooner text: sails let the ship move with the wind.

2 Steam text: "ships depended on wind."

Model answer: Yes; they corroborate each other.

★ KEY IDEA

Facts confirmed by two reliable sources are stronger. When sources disagree, investigate.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What advantage did schooners have?

Answer: fast and needed a smaller crew; sailed closer to the wind

2. What advantage did steamships have?

Answer: could travel without wind and keep schedules

3. What does corroborate mean?

Answer: confirm with another source

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 6.2

#	Question	Answer
1	What advantage did schooners have?	fast and needed a smaller crew; sailed closer to the wind

#	Question	Answer
2	What advantage did steamships have?	could travel without wind and keep schedules
3	What does corroborate mean?	confirm with another source
4	Corroborate means...	confirm with another source
5	If sources disagree, look for...	a third source / check the authors
6	What topic do both texts share?	ships / how ships moved
7	How does each text help explain why the age of sail ended?	Schooner text: ships needed wind; Steam text: steamships didn't, so they replaced sailing ships by 1900.
8	Write one fact the two texts corroborate.	Sailing ships depended on wind.
9	Why is it smart to check more than one source?	One source could be wrong or incomplete.

Would you trust a website about sharks written by a marine biologist or by an anonymous fan site?

Ask these questions about any source:

Question	Why it matters
Who wrote it? Are they an expert?	Experts are more likely to be accurate.
When was it written?	Science and news change; newer may be better.
Why was it written?	Ads and opinion pieces may leave out facts.
Does it give evidence and sources?	Facts should be backed up.
Do other reliable sources agree?	Corroboration builds trust.

MODEL · JUDGE A SOURCE

A site called "Bees R Awesome" with no author says bees "never sting."

1 No author or credentials.

2 Claim is not backed by evidence.

3 Other sources say bees can sting.

Model answer: Not reliable.

★ KEY IDEA

Check the author, date, purpose, evidence, and whether other sources agree.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. More reliable: a museum website or an anonymous blog?

Answer: museum website

2. Why check the date?

Answer: information may be outdated

3. Why be careful with an ad?

Answer: its purpose is to sell, so it may leave out facts

READING · OPINION WRITING

Should Fourth Graders Have Homework?

An original opinion piece

1 Many people argue about homework. I believe fourth graders should have a small amount of homework, about twenty minutes a night.

2 First, homework helps students practice. When students practice math facts or reading at home, they remember them better. A teacher at my school said her students' test scores rose after she assigned ten minutes of nightly reading.

3 Second, homework teaches responsibility. Students learn to plan their time and finish work without someone reminding them.

4 However, too much homework can be harmful. Children need time to play, rest, and be with their families. That is why twenty minutes is the right amount: enough to practice, but not so much that it takes over the evening.

Claim	Fourth graders should have about twenty minutes of homework a night.
Reason 1	Homework helps students practice.
Evidence	A teacher's students' scores rose with ten minutes of nightly reading.
Reason 2	Homework teaches responsibility.
Evidence	(none given; only explanation)

★ KEY IDEA

Claim → reasons (why) → evidence (how do you know).

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What is the author's claim?

Answer: Fourth graders should have about twenty minutes of homework a night.

2. Which reason has evidence?

Answer: Reason 1 (practice): the teacher's test scores

3. What counterargument does the author address?

Answer: too much homework is harmful

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 6.5

#	Question	Answer
1	What is the author's claim?	Fourth graders should have about twenty minutes of homework a night.
2	Which reason has evidence?	Reason 1 (practice): the teacher's test scores
3	What counterargument does the author address?	too much homework is harmful
4	A claim is...	the author's main opinion
5	Evidence answers...	how do you know?
6	List the author's two reasons.	Homework helps students practice; homework teaches responsibility.

#	Question	Answer
7	Which reason is better supported? Why?	Reason 1, because it has evidence (test scores). Reason 2 has only explanation.
8	How does paragraph 4 make the argument stronger?	It admits too much homework is bad and explains why twenty minutes balances both.
9	What evidence could the author add to support Reason 2?	e.g. a survey of teachers, an example of a student learning to plan

Is "Everyone loves dogs" good evidence for building a dog park?

Strong evidence is relevant (it connects to the reason) and sufficient (there's enough of it). Weak evidence includes opinions disguised as facts, exaggerations (everyone, always), and unrelated details.

MODEL · EVALUATE

Claim: Our school needs a garden. Evidence: "Gardens are pretty."

1 Relevant? Somewhat, but it's an opinion.

2 Stronger: "Students who garden eat more vegetables, according to a university study."

Model answer: The first is weak (opinion); the second is strong (a fact from a study).

★ KEY IDEA

Strong evidence: relevant facts, examples, or expert information. Weak: opinions, exaggerations, unrelated details.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Strong or weak: "All kids hate broccoli."

Answer: weak (exaggeration)

2. Strong or weak: "A survey of 200 students found 80% wanted longer recess."

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Text and diagrams: The Schooner

As you read, think about: Match each part named in the text to the diagram.

A diagram shows what words describe. Read the text and the diagram together: find each labeled part and connect it to the sentence that explains it.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

The Schooner

An original informational text

1 The Hispaniola in Treasure Island is a schooner, a sailing ship with two or more masts. Schooners were popular in the 1700s and 1800s because they were fast and needed a smaller crew than larger ships.

2 Unlike square-rigged ships, whose sails hung across the ship, a schooner's main sails ran along its length, from front to back. This let schooners sail closer to the direction the wind was coming from.

3 A triangular sail called a jib stretched forward from the front mast toward the bow. Sailors adjusted the sails using the rigging, and a rudder at the stern steered the ship.

Diagram: Parts of a Schooner

MODEL · CONNECT TEXT AND DIAGRAM

Where is the jib?

1 Text: a triangular sail that stretched forward toward the bow.

2 Diagram: the triangle sail at the front.

Model answer: The jib is the triangular sail at the front, reaching toward the bow.

★ KEY IDEA

Match words in the text to labels in the diagram. The diagram helps you picture what the words explain.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How many masts does the schooner have?

Answer: two

2. Where is the rudder?

Answer: at the stern

3. What does the rigging do?

Answer: holds up and adjusts the masts and sails

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 6.9

#	Question	Answer
1	How many masts does the schooner have?	two
2	Where is the rudder?	at the stern
3	What does the rigging do?	holds up and adjusts the masts and sails
4	A label is...	a word naming a part
5	A diagram shows...	parts or how something works
6	Explain how a schooner's sails were different from a square-rigged ship's sails. How does the diagram help?	Schooner sails ran front to back; square sails hung across. The diagram shows sails running along the ship.
7	Explain how a sailor would steer and adjust the ship, using three labels.	Rudder at the stern steers; rigging adjusts the sails on the masts.

GET READY

How did Jim and his friends know where to find the treasure?

Reading the Map of Skeleton Island

An original informational text

1 Maps use symbols to stand for real features. A key (or legend) explains what each symbol means. A compass rose shows directions, and a scale shows how distances on the map compare to real distances.

2 On the map below, the stockade is in the western part of the island. The hills rise near the center, and a swamp lies to the east. The X marks the spot where the treasure was buried, and the anchor symbol shows where ships could anchor safely.

Map: Skeleton Island (an invented map in the style of Treasure Island)

MODEL · USE THE MAP

In which direction would you walk from the stockade to the treasure?

1 Stockade: west side. Treasure X: east of the hills.

2 Compass rose: east is to the right.

Model answer: east (toward the right side of the map)

★ KEY IDEA

Use the key for symbols, the compass rose for direction, and the scale for distance.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does the □ symbol stand for?

Answer: the stockade

2. Is the swamp north or south of the X?

Answer: south

3. About how wide is the island, using the scale?

Answer: about 4 miles (accept reasonable estimates)

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 6.10

#	Question	Answer
1	What does the □ symbol stand for?	the stockade
2	Is the swamp north or south of the X?	south
3	About how wide is the island, using the scale?	about 4 miles (accept reasonable estimates)
4	What shows directions?	compass rose
5	What explains symbols?	key / legend
6	Where can ships anchor?	near the anchor symbol, southwest
7	What lies near the center?	hills
8	Direction from the hills to the swamp	southeast
9	Direction from the treasure to the stockade	west
10	How would this map help a treasure hunter? Use two map features.	Key shows where the X and hazards are; compass and scale give direction and distance.
11	Draw a small map of your room or yard with a key and compass rose.	Answers vary.

- [ ] Answer the Your Turn questions in Workbook Lesson 6.11, Part A.
- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 6.11 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

Why might an author show numbers in a graph instead of a sentence?

A graph shows patterns at a glance. Read the title, the labels on each axis, and the scale. Then ask what pattern the graph shows and how it supports the text.

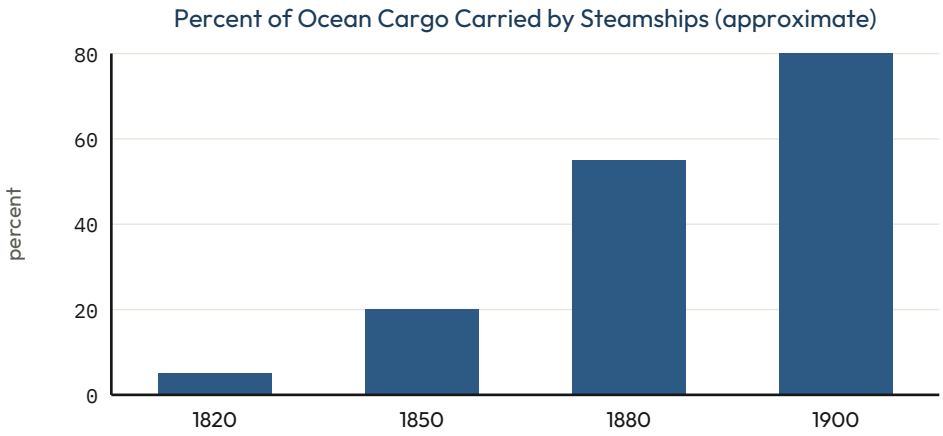

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

From Sail to Steam

An original informational text

1 For thousands of years, ships depended on wind. In the 1800s, inventors began building ships powered by steam engines. Steamships could travel even when the wind died, and they kept to schedules.

2 At first, many ships used both sails and steam. By 1900, steamships carried most passengers and cargo across the oceans, and the great age of sail was ending.

Graph: an illustrative graph for this lesson; values are rounded estimates.

MODEL · READ THE GRAPH

What pattern does the graph show?

1 Read the title and axes.

2 Compare bars: 5, 20, 55, 80.

Model answer: Steamships carried more and more cargo over time, supporting the text's point that steam replaced sail.

★ KEY IDEA

Title → labels → scale → pattern → connection to the text.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. About what percent did steamships carry in 1880?

Answer: about 55%

2. Between which years was the biggest increase?

Answer: 1850 to 1880

3. How does the graph support the text?

Answer: It shows steamships carrying most cargo by 1900.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 6.11

#	Question	Answer
1	About what percent did steamships carry in 1880?	about 55%
2	Between which years was the biggest increase?	1850 to 1880
3	How does the graph support the text?	It shows steamships carrying most cargo by 1900.
4	Read a graph's ___ first.	title
5	What does the y-axis show here?	percent
6	Percent in 1820	about 5%
7	Percent in 1900	about 80%
8	Increase from 1850 to 1900	about 60 percentage points
9	Did sailing ships still carry some cargo in 1900?	Yes, about 20%
10	Write two sentences explaining how the graph and the text work together.	The text says steamships replaced sail by 1900; the graph shows their share growing from 5% to about 80%.

What is something about ships, the sea, or the 1700s that you've wondered about?

READ IN YOUR READER

Treasure Island · Informational selection: The Voyage · pages 90–98

As you read, think about: Take notes on facts about long ocean voyages.

Good research questions are specific and can't be answered with yes or no. What were ships like? is too broad. How did sailors stay healthy on long voyages? is focused.

Too broad	Focused
Tell about the ocean.	How do whales communicate?
Pirates	How did pirate crews make decisions?
Ships	How did sailors navigate without GPS?

★ KEY IDEA

Ask a focused question, then find two or three reliable sources.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Broad or focused: “Animals”

Answer: broad

2. Broad or focused: “How do sea turtles find the beach where they hatched?”

Answer: focused

3. How many sources should you use?

UNIT 7 · TEACHER OVERVIEW

Reading Across Texts

Text sets, quests across cultures, myth and science explanations, integrating sources, discussion, and the synthesis essay, with King Arthur Chapters 13–16.

The Grail quest reaches its end, and you'll discover that quest stories appear all over the world. You'll read myths and folktales from Greece and Japan, compare ancient explanations of nature with scientific ones, combine information from several sources, discuss ideas with others, and write a synthesis essay answering the question: What makes a hero?

Big ideas

- Read text sets with a guiding question and annotate connections.
- Compare quest patterns and good vs evil across cultures.
- Compare myths and scientific explanations; evaluate explanations.
- Integrate, quote, paraphrase, and summarize sources; discuss with evidence.
- Plan, draft, revise, and publish a synthesis essay.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.9	Compare themes and patterns of events in stories, myths, and traditional literature from different cultures.
RI.4.3, RI.4.8, RI.4.9	Explain scientific concepts; evaluate reasons and evidence; integrate texts.
W.4.2, W.4.5, W.4.8, W.4.9	Write informative texts from several sources; revise; cite.
SL.4.1	Engage in collaborative discussions.

What students should already know

- Units 5–6: comparing texts and sources.

Materials for the unit

- King Arthur and the Round Table Reader (Chapters 13–16)
- Sticky notes; a flashlight and ball for the seasons demo

As you read, think about: How is Percival like and unlike the other knights you've read about?

A text set is a group of texts about one topic. Reading with a guiding question keeps you focused. After each text, jot down what it adds to your answer.

Guiding question: What makes a hero?
Text	What it adds
King Arthur (the Reader)	courage, fairness, loyalty to others
The Secret of Hollow Hill	a hero can be an ordinary kid who faces fear
The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter	acting quickly to save others
Momotaro (Lesson 7.3)	kindness and teamwork

★ KEY IDEA

Read each text with the guiding question in mind; record what each adds.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What is a text set?

Answer: a group of texts about the same topic

2. Why use a guiding question?

Answer: to stay focused and connect the texts

3. What does Percival add to the question “What makes a hero?”

Answer: Answers vary; supported by Chapter 13.

#	Question	Answer
1	What is a text set?	a group of texts about the same topic
2	Why use a guiding question?	to stay focused and connect the texts
3	What does Percival add to the question “What makes a hero?”	Answers vary; supported by Chapter 13.
4	A guiding question is…	a big question answered with several texts
5	Name one hero from this year's reading.	Arthur, Pip, Nell, Ada, Jim, etc.
6	Guiding question: What makes a hero? Write what each of these adds: Arthur, Pip (Hollow Hill), Nell (Lighthouse), Ada (Bridge at Millbrook).	Answers vary; e.g. Arthur: leadership/fairness; Pip: courage; Nell: acting under pressure; Ada: quick thinking.
7	Chapter 13: What does Sir Percival add?	Answers vary.
8	Write your first answer to the guiding question in one sentence.	Answers vary.

READING · MYTH

Jason and the Golden Fleece · A Greek Myth Retold

An original retelling of a traditional Greek myth

1 Long ago in Greece, a young man named Jason learned that his uncle had stolen his father's throne. When Jason demanded it back, his uncle smiled slyly. “Bring me the Golden Fleece,” he said, “and the throne is yours.” The fleece hung in a faraway land, guarded by a dragon that never slept.

2 Jason built a great ship called the Argo and gathered the bravest heroes of Greece to sail with him. On the journey, they rowed past clashing rocks that smashed ships to splinters and faced storms and strange creatures.

3 In the land of the fleece, the king gave Jason impossible tasks, such as plowing a field with fire-breathing bulls. With the help of the king's daughter, Medea, who knew magic, Jason completed the tasks, put the dragon to sleep, and took the fleece.

4 Jason sailed home a hero. His quest had tested his courage, but he could not have succeeded alone.

MODEL · ANNOTATE WITH CONNECTIONS

Paragraph 4: "he could not have succeeded alone."

1 Code S: like Pip, who needed Grandfather's map.

2 Code Q: a great quote about heroes needing help.

Model answer: S and Q

★ KEY IDEA

Connection codes (S, D, +, ?, Q) help you see patterns across texts.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does code S mean?

Answer: same idea as another text

2. Which detail in Jason could get a D compared to Arthur?

Answer: Jason used help from magic/Medea; Arthur's sword came from the Lady of the Lake (or accept reasonable)

3. Why is the last sentence a good Q?

Answer: It states an idea about heroes directly.

READING · FOLKTALE

Momotaro, the Peach Boy · A Japanese Folktale Retold

An original retelling of a traditional Japanese folktale

1 An old woman washing clothes in a river saw a giant peach floating by. She carried it home, and when she and her husband cut it open, out stepped a baby boy. They named him Momotaro, which means “Peach Boy,” and raised him with love.

2 When Momotaro grew up, ogres were stealing from the villages nearby. Momotaro decided to stop them. His mother packed him millet dumplings for the journey.

3 Along the way, he shared his dumplings with a hungry dog, a monkey, and a pheasant. Each one joined him. Together they crossed the sea to the ogres' island. The pheasant flew over the walls, the monkey opened the gate, and the dog and Momotaro charged in. The ogres surrendered and returned everything they had stolen.

4 Momotaro came home with the treasure and his loyal friends, and the villages were safe again.

Quest step	Jason (Greece)	Momotaro (Japan)
Call to the quest	win back the throne	stop the ogres
Helpers	Argo heroes, Medea	dog, monkey, pheasant
Trials	clashing rocks, fire bulls, dragon	crossing the sea, ogres' fortress
Return	home a hero with the fleece	home with treasure; villages safe

★ KEY IDEA

Quests across cultures share a pattern: call, journey, helpers, trials, success, return.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How did Momotaro gain his helpers?

Answer: by sharing his dumplings

2. Name one difference between the two quests.

Answer: e.g. Momotaro's helpers are animals; Jason's helper uses magic

3. What culture does each story come from?

Answer: Jason: Greece; Momotaro: Japan

Why do so many old stories have a clear villain?

Traditional stories often show the opposition of good and evil. Heroes usually show kindness, courage, or honesty, while villains show greed, cruelty, or trickery. Comparing how stories show this reveals what different cultures valued.

Story	Good shown by	Evil shown by	What the culture valued
Jason	courage, teamwork	the uncle's trickery	bravery; keeping promises
Momotaro	kindness, sharing	ogres who steal	kindness; protecting the community
King Arthur	loyalty, fairness	betrayal, greed	loyalty; justice

★ KEY IDEA

Good vs evil reveals what a culture values. Compare the qualities of heroes and villains.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does the villain in Jason want?

Answer: to keep the throne

2. How does Momotaro show good?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 14: The Death of Dindrane · pages 1–33

As you read, think about: What sacrifice is made in this chapter? How do the knights respond?

Long ago, people told myths to explain things they saw in nature, such as thunder, the seasons, or the stars. Myths also teach lessons about human feelings.

READING · MYTH

Persephone and the Seasons · A Greek Myth Retold

An original retelling of a traditional Greek myth

1 Demeter was the goddess of the harvest. Wherever she walked, crops grew tall and flowers bloomed. She loved nothing more than her daughter, Persephone.

2 One day Hades, ruler of the underworld, carried Persephone away to his dark kingdom. Demeter searched everywhere. In her grief, she stopped caring for the earth. Plants withered, snow fell, and people grew hungry.

3 At last, the king of the gods made an agreement. Persephone could return to her mother, but because she had eaten six pomegranate seeds in the underworld, she must spend six months of every year there.

4 And so, the ancient Greeks said, every year when Persephone goes below, Demeter mourns, and the earth grows cold and bare: autumn and winter. When Persephone returns, Demeter rejoices, and the earth blooms again: spring and summer.

MODEL · FIND THE EXPLANATION

What does the myth explain?

1 When Persephone is in the underworld, Demeter grieves and the earth grows cold.

2 When she returns, Demeter is happy and plants grow.

Model answer: The myth explains why there are seasons.

★ KEY IDEA

Myths explain nature through characters' actions and feelings.

✎ YOUR TURN

GET READY

Do you think Earth is closer to the sun in summer? Why?

Scientific explanations are based on observations and evidence. They often correct misconceptions (wrong ideas) and explain causes step by step.

READING · SCIENCE TEXT

What Causes the Seasons?

An original informational text

1 Many people think seasons happen because Earth moves closer to and farther from the sun. That's not the reason. In fact, Earth is closest to the sun in early January, during winter in the Northern Hemisphere.

2 The real cause is Earth's tilt. Earth's axis, the imaginary line it spins around, is tilted about 23.5 degrees. As Earth travels around the sun during the year, the tilt stays pointed the same direction in space.

3 For part of the year, the Northern Hemisphere is tilted toward the sun. Sunlight hits it more directly, and days are longer, so it is summer. Six months later, the Northern Hemisphere is tilted away from the sun. Sunlight hits at a low angle, days are shorter, and it is winter.

4 That's why, when it is summer in the United States, it is winter in Australia.

MODEL · EXPLAIN THE CAUSE

Why is it summer in the Northern Hemisphere in July?

1 Earth's tilt points the Northern Hemisphere toward the sun.

2 Sunlight hits more directly; days are longer.

Model answer: The Northern Hemisphere is tilted toward the sun, so it gets more direct light and longer days.

★ KEY IDEA

Scientific explanations give causes with evidence, step by step.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What misconception does the text correct?

Answer: that seasons happen because Earth is closer to or farther from the sun

2. How much is Earth tilted?

3. Why is it winter in Australia during U.S. summer?

Answer: The Southern Hemisphere is tilted away from the sun then.

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 7.6

#	Question	Answer
1	What misconception does the text correct?	that seasons happen because Earth is closer to or farther from the sun
2	How much is Earth tilted?	about 23.5 degrees
3	Why is it winter in Australia during U.S. summer?	The Southern Hemisphere is tilted away from the sun then.
4	An axis is...	an imaginary line something spins around
5	Two hemispheres	Northern and Southern
6	Explain the cause of seasons in three steps.	Earth's axis is tilted; as Earth orbits, one hemisphere tilts toward the sun (direct light, long days, summer); the other tilts away (low light, short days, winter).
7	What evidence shows distance from the sun is NOT the cause?	Earth is closest to the sun in early January, during Northern winter.
8	Draw a quick sketch of Earth tilted toward the sun and label summer.	Sketch: tilted Earth; hemisphere toward sun labeled summer.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Explanation A: Tides

An original informational text

The ocean rises and falls along the shore twice a day. These changes are called tides. Tides are caused by the moon.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Explanation B: Why the Ocean Has Tides

An original informational text

1 Along most coasts, the ocean rises to a high tide and falls to a low tide about twice a day. The main cause is the moon's gravity, the force that pulls objects toward each other.

2 The moon pulls on the whole Earth, but it pulls hardest on the side closest to it. Ocean water on that side bulges toward the moon. A second bulge forms on the opposite side of Earth. As Earth spins, a coastline passes through both bulges each day, which is why most places have two high tides.

3 The sun's gravity affects tides too. When the sun and moon line up, at full moon and new moon, tides are extra high and extra low.

MODEL · EVALUATE

Which explains tides better?

1 A says the moon causes tides but not how.

2 B explains gravity, the two bulges, Earth's spin, and the sun's role.

Model answer: B is better: it is complete and gives supporting details.

★ KEY IDEA

Judge explanations by completeness, accuracy, clarity, and support.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does A leave out?

Answer: how the moon causes tides

2. Why do most places have two high tides a day?

Answer: Earth spins through two bulges

3. When are tides extra high?

Answer: when the sun and moon line up: full and new moon

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 7.8

#	Question	Answer
1	What does A leave out?	how the moon causes tides
2	Why do most places have two high tides a day?	Earth spins through two bulges
3	When are tides extra high?	when the sun and moon line up: full and new moon
4	Gravity is...	a force that pulls objects toward each other
5	Is longer always better?	No
6	Explain why Explanation B is more complete. Use two details from B.	It explains gravity pulling the water into a bulge and Earth spinning through two bulges.

#	Question	Answer
7	Is there anything Explanation A does well?	It is short and clear; it gets the main cause right.
8	Add one sentence to Explanation A to make it better.	e.g. The moon's gravity pulls ocean water toward it, making a bulge.

GET READY

How is combining sources like making a smoothie?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 15: The Achievement of the Grail · pages 1–35

As you read, think about: Who achieves the Grail? Why him?

When you integrate sources, you blend details from each into one smooth explanation, using transitions and naming the sources.

READING · SOURCE 1

Source 1: Becoming a Page

An original informational text

Boys from noble families began training for knighthood at about age seven. They became pages and lived in the castle of a lord. Pages learned manners, served meals, and practiced riding and fighting with wooden swords.

READING · SOURCE 2

Source 2: The Squire's Training

An original informational text

At about fourteen, a page became a squire. A squire served one knight, caring for his horse, polishing his armor, and following him into battle. Squires trained hard with real weapons and learned the code of chivalry.

READING · SOURCE 3

Source 3: The Dubbing Ceremony

An original informational text

Around age twenty-one, a squire who had proven himself could become a knight in a ceremony called dubbing. Often he spent the night before praying. In the morning, a lord tapped him on the shoulder with a sword and declared him a knight.

MODEL · INTEGRATE THREE SOURCES

How did a boy become a knight?

1 Source 1: page at seven, manners and wooden swords.

2 Source 2: squire at fourteen, served a knight, real weapons.

3 Source 3: dubbed around twenty-one.

Model answer: Becoming a knight took about fourteen years. Boys began as pages at around seven, learning manners and practicing with wooden swords. At about fourteen they became squires, serving a knight and training with real weapons. Finally, around age twenty-one, a squire could be dubbed a knight in a special ceremony.

★ KEY IDEA

Blend details in a logical order with transitions; don't just list source by source.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. At what age did a page become a squire?

Answer: about fourteen

2. What is dubbing?

Answer: the ceremony that made a squire a knight

3. What transition words help integrate?

Answer: first, then, at about..., finally

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 7.9

#	Question	Answer
1	At what age did a page become a squire?	about fourteen
2	What is dubbing?	the ceremony that made a squire a knight
3	What transition words help integrate?	first, then, at about..., finally
4	Page age	about seven
5	Knight age	about twenty-one
6	Write a paragraph explaining what a squire did. Use details from at least two sources.	Squires served a knight, cared for his horse and armor, followed him to battle, trained with real weapons, and learned chivalry; some later became knights by dubbing.
7	Who achieves the Grail, and what qualities from the knight sources does he show?	Answers vary; e.g. Galahad shows purity, loyalty, chivalry.

Grammar and Conventions

Nouns, pronouns, verbs, complete sentences, capitalization, punctuation, confused words, and editing, with King Arthur Chapters 17–20.

Clear writing follows rules that readers expect. In this unit you'll master the grammar and conventions of fourth grade, from plurals and possessives to progressive tenses, dialogue punctuation, and tricky homophones, and you'll become a sharp-eyed editor of your own writing.

Big ideas

- Form plurals and possessives; use pronouns and relative pronouns; make words agree.
- Use verb tenses, progressive tenses, and modals; write complete sentences.
- Capitalize and punctuate correctly, including dialogue and compound sentences.
- Use confused words and spelling patterns correctly; edit whole passages.

Standards

Code	Standard
L.4.1a–g	Demonstrate command of grammar and usage: relative pronouns, progressive tenses, modals, adjective order, prepositional phrases, complete sentences, confused words.

GET READY

How many nouns can you find in this sentence: "Arthur rode his horse to Camelot with three knights"?

READ IN YOUR READER

King Arthur and the Round Table · Chapter 17: The Queen and the Poisoned Apple · pages 1–40

As you read, think about: Notice the proper nouns: names of people and places.

Rule for plurals	Examples
Most nouns: add -s	knight → knights
Ends in s, x, z, ch, sh: add -es	box → boxes, sword → swords, bench → benches
Consonant + y: change y to i, add -es	lady → ladies, story → stories
Vowel + y: add -s	day → days, key → keys
Some f/fe: change to v, add -es	knife → knives, wolf → wolves
Irregular	man → men, child → children, foot → feet, mouse → mice

MODEL · FIND AND SORT NOUNS

"Arthur rode his horse to Camelot with three knights."

1 Proper: Arthur, Camelot (specific, capitalized).

2 Common: horse, knights.

Model answer: 4 nouns: Arthur, horse, Camelot, knights

★ KEY IDEA

What's the difference between knights, knight's, and knights'?

Possessive rule	Example
Singular noun: add 's	the knight's sword (one knight)
Plural noun ending in s: add '	the knights' swords (many knights)
Plural noun not ending in s: add 's	the children's toys, the men's horses

MODEL · CHOOSE THE FORM

The swords of all the knights

1 Plural owner: knights (ends in s).

2 Add only an apostrophe.

Model answer: the knights' swords

! WATCH OUT

Don't use an apostrophe to make a word plural. Three knight's is wrong; three knights is correct.

★ KEY IDEA

Singular: 's. Plural ending in s: '. Plural not ending in s: 's.

GET READY

How would a story sound if the author never used pronouns? “Arthur took Arthur's sword and Arthur rode away.”

Pronouns replace nouns so writing isn't repetitive. Relative pronouns begin a clause that tells more about a noun.

Relative pronoun	Use for	Example
who	people (as subject)	The knight who won was Lancelot.
whom	people (as object)	The squire, whom Owen trusted, held the reins.
whose	ownership	The girl whose kite crashed tried again.
which	things (extra information)	Excalibur, which was magic, shone brightly.
that	things or people	This is the map that Grandfather drew.

MODEL · CHOOSE THE RELATIVE PRONOUN

The lady ___ gave Arthur the sword lived in the lake.

1 Refers to a person.

2 She is the subject of “gave.”

Model answer: who

★ KEY IDEA

Who for people, which for things, that for either, whose for ownership.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. The sword, ___ was magic, was called Excalibur.

Answer: which

2. Pip, ___ grandfather made maps, found the room.

Answer: whose

3. The boy ___ pulled the sword became king.

Answer: who

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 8.3

#	Question	Answer
1	The sword, ___ was magic, was called Excalibur.	which
2	Pip, ___ grandfather made maps, found the room.	whose
3	The boy ___ pulled the sword became king.	who
4	Pronoun for Merlin	he / him
5	Pronoun for the knights	they / them

- [ ] Complete the rest of Workbook Lesson 8.15 (Parts B–D).

GET READY

How does “The door creaked open.” feel different from “The door creaked open…”?

Writers use punctuation to create effects: an exclamation point shows strong feeling, an ellipsis (…) shows a pause or trailing off, and a dash adds drama. Choose words that are precise and fit the mood.

Plain	For effect
The ship was coming.	The ship was coming. Closer. Closer.
She was surprised.	She gasped. “The treasure!”
He waited.	He waited… and waited… and waited.
It was a big storm.	It was a storm — the worst in a hundred years.

★ KEY IDEA

Use punctuation and precise words on purpose, not everywhere.

! WATCH OUT

Too many exclamation points lose their power!!! Use them only for real excitement.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. Punctuation to show trailing off

Answer: ellipsis (…)

2. Punctuation for strong feeling

Answer: exclamation point

3. Revise for effect: “The dragon was scary.”

UNIT 9 · TEACHER OVERVIEW

Capstone

Year in review, a writing portfolio, a capstone piece, and a presentation, with King Arthur Chapters 21–22.

The legend of King Arthur comes to its end, and so does your fourth-grade year. You'll review the reading and language skills you've mastered, build a portfolio of your best writing, write and polish a capstone piece, and present your learning to an audience.

Big ideas

- Review vocabulary, literary, and informational reading skills.
- Select portfolio pieces, reflect on growth, and set goals.
- Draft, revise, edit, and publish a capstone piece.
- Plan and deliver a presentation with evidence and a visual.

Standards

Code	Standard
RL.4.1–3, RI.4.1–7	Review comprehension standards.
L.4.1–5	Review language standards.
W.4.4–6, W.4.10	Produce, revise, and publish writing; write routinely.
SL.4.1, SL.4.3–5	Discuss, listen for reasons and evidence, and present.

What students should already know

- All Grade 4 ELA units.

Materials for the unit

- King Arthur and the Round Table Reader (Chapters 1, 21–22)
- Treasure Island Reader (Chapter 9)

- A folder for the portfolio; poster board or slides

The Last Lantern

An original story

1 Every night for sixty years, Grandmother Rosa lit a lantern in her window. The village children believed it was magic. Some said it kept wolves away; others said it called home lost sailors.

2 When Rosa grew too weak to climb the stairs, her grandson Mateo found her staring at the dark window. “Who will light it now?” she whispered.

3 Mateo had always thought the lantern was silly. But that night, he climbed the stairs, struck a match, and lit the wick. The flame trembled, then glowed steady and gold.

4 The next morning, a fisherman knocked at the door. “Last night the fog was so thick I lost my way,” he said. “Then I saw your light. I steered toward it and found the harbor.”

5 Mateo looked at his grandmother. She smiled. “It was never magic,” she said. “It was just someone remembering to care.” From then on, Mateo lit the lantern every night.

MODEL · USE STRATEGIES

What does “trembled” mean in paragraph 3?

1 Context: “then glowed steady.” Steady is an antonym clue.

2 So trembled means shook or flickered.

Model answer: flickered, shook

★ KEY IDEA

Choose the strategy that fits: word parts, context, figurative meaning, allusion, or reference tools.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What does “It was just someone remembering to care” mean?

Answer: The lantern's power was kindness, not magic.

2. Prefix and meaning in unlit

Answer: un-: not lit

3. Figurative or literal: “glowed steady and gold”?

Answer: literal description

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 9.1

What lesson does "The Last Lantern" teach?

Skill	Ask yourself
Theme (Unit 2)	What does the main character learn?
Character (Units 2, 5)	What do STEAL clues show? How does the character change?
Inference (Units 2–3)	What clues + what I know lead to a conclusion?
Plot (Unit 5)	What is the climax? How is it resolved?
Point of view (Units 3–5)	Who is telling the story?

MODEL · THEME

"The Last Lantern"

1 Mateo thinks the lantern is silly.

2 Lighting it saves a fisherman.

3 Rosa: it was about caring.

Model answer: Small acts of caring can make a big difference.

★ KEY IDEA

Theme, character, inference, plot, point of view: support each with evidence.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. How does Mateo change?

Answer: from thinking the lantern is silly to lighting it every night

2. What is the climax?

Answer: Mateo lights the lantern / the fisherman reveals it saved him

3. Point of view

Answer: third person

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 9.2

#	Question	Answer
1	How does Mateo change?	from thinking the lantern is silly to lighting it every night
2	What is the climax?	Mateo lights the lantern / the fisherman reveals it saved him
3	Point of view	third person
4	Theme is...	the life lesson
5	STEAL stands for...	Speech, Thoughts, Effect, Actions, Looks
6	Why does Mateo light the lantern even though he thinks it's silly? Make an inference.	He loves his grandmother and wants to keep her tradition / ease her worry.
7	What is the theme? Support it with two details.	Small acts of caring matter: Mateo lights the lamp; the fisherman finds the harbor; Rosa's words.
8	Compare the theme with “The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter” (Unit 2).	Both show a light that saves sailors and someone choosing to care for others.
9	How does Arthur's story end? What theme does the ending suggest?	Answers vary.

READING · INFORMATIONAL TEXT

Coral Reefs: Cities Under the Sea

An original informational text

Tiny Builders

A coral reef may look like a colorful rock, but it is built by millions of tiny animals called coral polyps. Each polyp makes a hard shell of limestone around its soft body. Over thousands of years, these shells pile up to form reefs.

A Busy Neighborhood

Reefs cover less than one percent of the ocean floor, yet about one quarter of all ocean species live on or near them. Fish, sea turtles, octopuses, and sharks find food and shelter among the coral.

Reefs in Danger

When ocean water becomes too warm, corals push out the tiny algae that live inside them and give them color and food. The coral turns white, which is called coral bleaching. If the water stays warm too long, the coral can die.

Protecting Reefs

Scientists are growing young corals in underwater nurseries and replanting them on damaged reefs. Visitors can help by never touching or standing on coral and by using sunscreen that is safe for reefs.

MODEL · MAIN IDEA OF THE WHOLE TEXT

"Coral Reefs: Cities Under the Sea"

1 Section ideas: polyps build reefs; reefs host many species; warm water causes bleaching; people help protect them.

Model answer: Coral reefs, built by tiny polyps, are home to many sea creatures but are in danger, so people are working to protect them.

★ KEY IDEA

Preview features, find section and whole-text main ideas, identify the structure, and cite evidence.

✎ YOUR TURN

Answers are shown in color.

1. What is coral bleaching?

Answer: coral turning white when it pushes out algae because the water is too warm

2. Structure of "Reefs in Danger"

Answer: cause and effect

3. Structure of "Protecting Reefs"

Answer: problem and solution

Workbook Answer Key · Lesson 9.3

#	Question	Answer
1	What is coral bleaching?	coral turning white when it pushes out algae because the water is too warm
2	Structure of "Reefs in Danger"	cause and effect
3	Structure of "Protecting Reefs"	problem and solution
4	Text feature in this article	headings, bold words
5	Cause-effect signal word	when, because

#	Question	Answer
6	Why are reefs called “cities under the sea”? Use evidence.	Many species live there: about one quarter of ocean species, like a crowded city.
7	Explain the cause and effect of coral bleaching.	Warm water causes corals to push out algae; they turn white and may die.
8	What can visitors do to help? Paraphrase.	Don't touch or stand on coral; use reef-safe sunscreen.
9	What visual would help this article? Why?	e.g. a diagram of a polyp; a photo of bleached vs healthy coral

Grade 4 ELA Year-End Test — Answer Key

Answers

#	Question	Answer
1	Describe the setting in paragraph 1. Use two details.	a clock shop crowded with clocks: tall clocks, tiny locket clocks, a huge window clock with a painted moon
2	What problem does Hana have at the beginning? Give evidence.	She works too quickly and makes mistakes: gears slip, springs fly, watch in the soup.
3	What does Master Brenner mean by “A clock cannot be rushed. Neither can a clockmaker”?	Good work and learning take patience.
4	What is the climax of the story?	Hana fixes the great clock before midnight.
5	How does Hana change? Use evidence from the beginning and the end.	From rushing and careless to patient and skilled: dropped a watch in soup; carefully finds and fixes the bent tooth.
6	State the theme.	Patience leads to success / skill grows with patience.
7	“The moon froze halfway across its painted sky” means... A. the moon turned to ice B. the painted moon stopped moving C. it was cold outside	B. the painted moon stopped moving
8	List two problems with telling time before mechanical clocks.	Sundials didn't work on cloudy days or at night; water clocks and candles weren't exact.
9	What is a pendulum, and why did it matter?	a weight that swings at a steady rate; it made clocks far more accurate
10	Which structure does the section “Time for Everyone” mostly use? A. cause and effect B. compare and contrast C. problem and solution	A. cause and effect
11	What is the main idea of the whole text?	Clocks became more accurate over time and changed how people lived and worked.

#	Question	Answer
12	What kind of clock does Hana fix? Use Text B to explain how it works.	a pendulum clock; the pendulum swings at a steady rate to keep accurate time
13	Why might a whole city care so much about one clock (Text A)? Use Text B for support.	Accurate clocks organized daily life and schedules; the city depended on its clock for events like New Year.
14	enormous (paragraph 1) means...	very big
15	Plural of watch	watches
16	Edit: hana said im ready	Hana said, “I'm ready.”
17	Combine: Hana was careful. Hana was brave.	Hana was careful and brave.
18	Opinion: Is patience the most important quality for an apprentice? Write a paragraph with a clear opinion, two reasons with evidence from the texts, linking words, and a conclusion.	Rubric: opinion (1); reason 1 with evidence (1); reason 2 with evidence (1); explanation (1); linking words (1); conclusion and conventions (1).
