A Case for Shade

Our reading area should have a shaded bench. At noon, the sunny bench can be uncomfortable. A shaded seat would give readers another choice. We can first move a portable shade nearby and record how many students use the area. Then we can ask whether the change helped. Some people worry that a permanent structure would cost too much. That is a fair concern, so a temporary test is a sensible first step. The goal is not to promise that every reader will love the bench. The goal is to use evidence to decide whether a small improvement is worthwhile.

1. Using the supplied passage, write one organized paragraph explaining its central message. Include two accurate details and explain how they support your response. (5 points)

2. Revise two sentences from your response. Explain one change that improves grammar, word choice, or clarity. (3 points)
