The Bridge Apprentice

In this original historical fiction, an apprentice watched an experienced builder inspect a Roman-style stone bridge. The apprentice wanted to remove the wooden supports as soon as the final stone was placed. "A finished appearance is not enough," the builder warned. He checked the arch and explained how its stones pressed against one another and transferred forces toward the supports. The apprentice grew impatient, but a cracked stone changed her mind. Together they replaced it and repeated the inspection. Later, the apprentice wrote that the delay had been the most important part of the work. The scene does not establish facts about a particular ancient builder; it uses an imagined conversation to explore patience and responsibility. Readers should distinguish the fictional characters from historical claims, such as the Romans' use of arches in engineering.

1. Using the supplied passage, write two organized paragraphs explaining its central message. Include two accurate details and explain how they support your response. (5 points)

2. Revise two sentences from your response. Explain one change that improves grammar, word choice, or clarity. (3 points)

3. Connect your writing to this module's Khan reading/grammar goals. Name two skills, show an example of each in your own writing, and explain your choices. (4 points)

W1 data: A fictional comparison records temperature before and after a controlled warming step. Trial A: 21 temperature in degrees C; Trial B: 29 temperature in degrees C. These are invented assessment data, not a claim about a real investigation.

W2 data: A fictional comparison records temperature before and after a controlled warming step. Trial A: 22 temperature in degrees C; Trial B: 30 temperature in degrees C. These are invented assessment data, not a claim about a real investigation.

W3 data: A fictional comparison records temperature before and after a controlled warming step. Trial A: 23 temperature in degrees C; Trial B: 31 temperature in degrees C. These are invented assessment data, not a claim about a real investigation.

W4 data: A fictional comparison records temperature before and after a controlled warming step. Trial A: 24 temperature in degrees C; Trial B: 32 temperature in degrees C. These are invented assessment data, not a claim about a real investigation.

1. Does a visible change always mean a chemical reaction? (1 point)

2. Use W1 data. Which trial has the higher recorded value, and by how much? (2 points)

3. Explain how to investigate a possible chemical reaction. (3 points)

4. What does an indicator help reveal? (1 point)

5. Use W2 data. Which trial has the higher recorded value, and by how much? (2 points)

6. Interpret a hypothetical pH chart: A=3, B=7, C=10. (3 points)

7. Why can a reaction's surroundings change temperature? (1 point)

8. Use W3 data. Which trial has the higher recorded value, and by how much? (2 points)

9. Draw an energy-transfer model for each reaction type. (3 points)

10. Why might measured mass fall in an open container? (1 point)

11. Use W4 data. Which trial has the higher recorded value, and by how much? (2 points)

12. Model a closed reaction with equal atom counts before and after. (3 points)

13. Choose one of the supplied data comparisons. Write a claim supported by those data, give the two values as evidence, and explain what further information would be needed for a causal explanation. (4 points)

Social Studies - 24 points
