A History Portfolio

A student created a portfolio about how travel and communication changed societies. She began with a research question rather than a list of famous people: How did networks connect communities, and whose experiences were left out of the usual accounts? She compared a map, a trade-route reading, and a translated historical account. Her notes separated quotations, paraphrases, and her own interpretations. When two accounts disagreed, she recorded their authors, purposes, and contexts instead of choosing the more dramatic version. The final presentation used a timeline but did not imply that every change happened everywhere at once. It included an argument supported by evidence and a section explaining limitations. The student concluded that a strong portfolio shows not only a polished product but also how the researcher checked and revised the work.

1. Identify one strong idea you could develop from the passage. (1 point)

Answer / scoring: Strong historical research compares sources, supports an argument, and explains limits.

2. Name one revision that improves organization or evidence. (1 point)

Answer / scoring: Move/group ideas, add a relevant detail, remove an irrelevant idea, or clarify reasoning.

3. Name one editing check for conventions. (1 point)

Answer / scoring: Capitalization, sentence boundaries, agreement, punctuation, or spelling.

4. Write a brief revision/presentation plan with an opening, two supporting points, and a closing. (2 points)

Answer / scoring: Clear main idea, two accurate relevant supporting points, logical closing.

5. What does the student do when accounts disagree? (1 point)

Answer / scoring: Checks authors, purposes, contexts, and records the disagreement rather than selecting by drama.

6. Why does the timeline need explanation? (1 point)

Answer / scoring: Changes did not happen at the same time or in the same way everywhere.

7. Correct this misspelling: conclution. (1 point)

Answer / scoring: conclusion

8. Write two organized paragraphs (at least 8 sentences total) about the passage's main message. Use two accurate details, explain their connection, and edit sentences and spelling. (5 points)

Answer / scoring: Rubric: clear relevant main idea/claim (1); two accurate supporting details (1 each); reasoning/organization (1); readable complete sentences and conventions (1). Accept defensible interpretations, not just the sample central idea: Strong historical research compares sources, supports an argument, and explains limits.
