Physical Sciences — Evidence of chemical reactions

1. Why can a precipitate indicate a chemical reaction? (1 points)

Expected answer / rubric: A new insoluble solid may form from reacting substances.

2. Show one piece of this week's work and explain one correction or improvement. (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Award 1 point for relevant completed evidence and 1 for an accurate explanation of a revision or improvement. Do not assess personal beliefs, diagnoses, or disclosures.

Social Studies — Roman geography & founding traditions

W1 background: Sea and land routes connected trade, movement, and political control. Stories can express identity but are not automatically factual records. This is an assessment background note written for this packet, not an actual historical primary-source quotation.

1. Compare a founding story with material/written evidence. (3 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Rubric (3): accurate relevant content (1); supported comparison/relationship (1); clear organization and source/evidence awareness (1). Genre/purpose distinction, evidence to check, and a qualified conclusion.

2. Show one piece of this week's work and explain one correction or improvement. (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Award 1 point for relevant completed evidence and 1 for an accurate explanation of a revision or improvement. Do not assess personal beliefs, diagnoses, or disclosures.

Art — Notation and duration

Read before you begin

Notation records selected musical features. Values depend on the stated system and context. Count durations rather than assuming all symbols last the same time.

1. Why state the notation system? (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: So symbols can be interpreted as intended durations and sounds.

2. Show one piece of this week's work and explain one correction or improvement. (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Award 1 point for relevant completed evidence and 1 for an accurate explanation of a revision or improvement. Do not assess personal beliefs, diagnoses, or disclosures.

Life Sciences — Philosophical questions and reasons

Read before you begin

Philosophy examines questions about knowledge, reality, meaning, and how to live. A claim states a position; a reason supports it. Asking for reasons differs from attacking a person.

1. How do a claim and a reason differ? (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: A claim states a position; a reason explains support for it.

2. Show one piece of this week's work and explain one correction or improvement. (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Award 1 point for relevant completed evidence and 1 for an accurate explanation of a revision or improvement. Do not assess personal beliefs, diagnoses, or disclosures.

Computer Science — Scratch sequences

Read before you begin

Connected Scratch blocks form scripts. Start with a small instruction sequence and test it before adding complexity. Order affects behavior.

1. Why does order matter? (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Different instruction orders can produce different behavior.

2. Show one piece of this week's work and explain one correction or improvement. (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Award 1 point for relevant completed evidence and 1 for an accurate explanation of a revision or improvement. Do not assess personal beliefs, diagnoses, or disclosures.

Life Skills — Kitchen tools and food hygiene

Read before you begin

Safe cooking starts with clean hands, suitable tools, and an organized space. Separate raw and ready-to-eat foods appropriately. Adults supervise blades, heat, and unfamiliar equipment.

1. Why separate raw and ready-to-eat food? (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: To reduce cross-contamination.

2. Show one piece of this week's work and explain one correction or improvement. (2 points)

Expected answer / rubric: Award 1 point for relevant completed evidence and 1 for an accurate explanation of a revision or improvement. Do not assess personal beliefs, diagnoses, or disclosures.
